The Financial Situation.

NEW YORK, January 10, 1891.

The improvement noted in our review of last week has been followed by another week of marked recovery. On the Stock Exchange, there has been a steady rise in the price of securities, with but few and slight reactions. The 'bear' element has been less agressive and appears to concede that the market affords little inducement to attack at the current range of values. This change seems to be due to a conviction that the weak spots in the market have been probed to the bottom, and that the elements of recuperation are stronger than they have been supposed to be, an impression which is strengthened by a prominent stock having unexpectedly resumed payments in full during the week and renewed operations in the securities upon which their embarrassments arose. The shrinkage of failures down to about their usual volume is accepted as very direct evidence that in trade circles affairs are fast returning to a normal condition, and that the injury to the commercial class arising from the crisis has not been so radical as to very seriously interfere with the Spring trade. Again, we have evidently reached an advanced stage of recovery in credit circles. Banks are abating their late extreme caution, and foresee a probable early abundance of money, which is inducing them to give more encouragement to borrowers. Their attitude towards Wall Street houses is more liberal, and there is no difficulty in getting money on four to eight months, upon good collaterals, at 5½ and 6 per cent, which removes the late important obstacle to stock houses encouraging large operations.

It is mainly from reasons of the above character that prices have been steadily creaping up during the two last weeks. The improvement has extended to corporate bonds as well as to stocks. A few weeks ago, the prices of a large mass of railroad bonds ranged at figures that would yield about 6 per cent to the buyer: the subsequent rise has put them upon about a 5 per cent basis. This recovery in mortgage investments has laid the foundation for a corresponding improvement in the stocks of the same corporations; which, however, has, as yet, been only partially realized, and therefore leaves a legitimate margin for future advance.

It seems reasonable to regard the late recovery of prices as permanent, barring temporary reactions from 'bear' attacks. The rise would probably halt at any further appreciable advance, partly from realizings and partly from 'bear' influences; but we doubt whether, in such case, any large reaction would occur. There is a very decided undertone of confidence in current values, which would be likely to bring out buyers under a decline of one to three points. And it is not to be overlooked that we are now verging closely toward a very decided case in the money market. After the first half of January, the reserves of the banks almost invariably suddenly rise several millions; and, if this year proves exceptional to custom, it is likely to be in the way of a larger increase than usual, for the reason that an excessive stringency in money is always quickly followed by an excessive ease. London this week affords an illustration of that principle in the Bank of England's rate of discount to four per cent. The pending arrangements for controlling rates of rail freights in the west and southwest also constitute an important 'bull' factor. The rise in prices of the last few days must be in part attributed to that influence. But the full effect has by no means been realized. A certain amount of distrust about the final consummation of the scheme has yet to be overcome. The working details of the plan, its binding force and the fixed term of its duration are matters yet undetermined, as well as the extent of the advance in rates that may be decreed. These uncertainties leave very little that is yet positively known about the agreement. If, therefore, the completion of the plan should impress public opinion favorably as to its ultimate workings this factor would be found to have a more important bearing on values than is at present credited to it. This is a hope to which many operators are likely to cling until the plans of the managers are fully revealed. At present, there is no evidence that any roads in the section concerned will stand aloof from the combination,—certainly none of importance. The next step in the arrangements is the drafting of by-laws for the government of the Association for which a committee has been appointed. This stage of progress having been reached, there is little doubt that the great experiment will be tried; and that fact will give the railroads of the Southwest a special speculative interest.

One great unsettling doubt overhangs Wall street. The silver faction in Congress, unsatisfied with the large concessions to its demands made last summer, now asks for anything that could by possibility be granted—the free coinage of silver up to the full limit of the United States production; and it is by no means certain that a majority in Congress will not be procured for the proposal. Such a law, if allowed to run for a few years, could hardly fail to drive gold out of the country and put it at a premium, leaving our entire paper currency (excepting gold certificates) convertible into a depreciated silver legal tender. Opinions can differ only as to when the result might come; the ultimate consequence is inevitable. The adoption of the bill would be likely to have an immediate effect upon all long dated obligations not made payable specifically in gold, and thus might make gold itself a subject of speculation much sooner than is now anticipated. The pendency in Congress of a measure involving such momentous possibilities cannot but act as a very important factor in both investment and speculative operations; and, if it has not already become such, it is only because Wall Street is not yet quite prepared to credit Congress of being capable of committing itself to such a fatal folly.

The currency movement with the interior has taken a very marked turn in favor of this city. Money is flowing hither from the East, West and even the South, and the past week's net receipts of the banks from those sections have amounted to over five millions. The exchanges of the banks with the Sub-Treasury show a small balance in favor of the latter. This is conclusive that we have reached the beginnings of cheap money. HENRY CLEWS.

Agricultural.

Two dangers now threaten the young wheat; alternate freezing and thawing may heave the ground and break the roots, leaving the plants loose upon the the surface, where they speedily perish, or surface water may gather in low places and smother the crop. These dangers are not ignored, but met without delay by sufficient preparations. A top dressing of coarse, fresh manure will be most useful in protecting the young plants from severe cold and from sudden changes of the weather by which the surface of the soil is lifted and fractured and the roots are broken. The plant food thus provided will stay in the soil, ready for use in the spring when it is needed most urgently and when the condition of the soil is such as to forbid the drawing of manure on the land. But care is to be taken to choose a dry time or a hard frozen surface for this work, lest the wheels cut into soft soil and make ruts in which the water may run and cause gullies. To prevent the gathering of surface water on the land, furrows should be made as soon as the seed has been covered in, but as most men are not always wise and farmers are often neglectful, this has not been done perhaps when it should have been. An early opportunity should be taken to remedy this neglect.

A Political Combination.

The result of the combination of the Knights of Labor with the Farmers' Alliance for action during the next Presidential campaign will be watched with much anxiety, not only by the leaders of the now recognized parties, but by a large following of the rank and file of active politicians.

The action is the result of the meeting of the General Assembly recently at the city of Denver, Col., and General Master Workman T. V. Powderly has just made the first move in that direction. He has issued a circular to all labor organizations and industrial and reform bodies in the interests of an industrial conference to formulate a political platform such as industrialists could favor at the polls.

The date is not fixed, the organizations being asked to vote on the day. The day suggested is that of the anniversary of Washington's birthday.

SOME country editors who attended the Jackson Day ceremonies in Philadelphia last week and failed to get to the banquet because chairs were selling from $10 to $25 (and a country editor never has more than 50 cents to squander on one meal) now since the strawberry quotations have appeared in the Philadelphia market reports, think that the main dish at the banquet must have been strawberries.

The Co-Operative Movement.

[Bellefonte Fountain.]

The co-operative movement has as its object the improvement of the position of the working classes. It seeks to place capital in their hands—to enable the working class to become also a capitalist class; and in so doing to moralize trade, moderate competition, educate men as citizens, and unite them in brotherly sympathy.

WHAT WE SEE.

On one side we see great fortunes often accompanied by selfish expenditure and luxurious living; and on the other, such poverty as to deprive men not only of leisure and opportunities of improvement, but frequently of even the bare necessaries of life.

WHAT WE HOPE FOR.

Capital in itself is good and necessary of labor. What is bad is its concentration in a few hands. Our aim is to establish a system which shall cause it to be distributed more widely, and by bridging over the gulf between laborers and capitalists shall enable the working class to enjoy in the wisest and most unselfish manner the advantages that money can bring.

THE PRINCIPLE.

The principle upon which our system is founded is that of Association. It is impossible, under the present conditions, to live in isolation; we are dependent upon others for the satisfaction of all our wants. To facilitate progress we must make this interdependence a source of good for all. We must regulate it on high and generous principles, not enriching ourselves at the expense of others, as we often do now, but through organization, working for our own and our neighbors' success at once. Association is organized interdependence.

It is impossible to over-estimate the advantages that may result from Association, not only because by it the faculties of individuals are sharpened and their hopes strengthened through contact with others, and because the qualities of some supply those that are lacking in others, but chiefly on account of the irresistible moral force that can be exerted by numbers united in a common aim.

PLAN OF ASSOCIATION.

Bodies of working men and women are to join their small capitals together, thus obtaining all the advantages which large capital has over small. They are to be their own employers; sharing among themselves the fruits of their labor. By this means the difficulties that now exist between employers and employed are removed. In thus making labor and capital proceed from the same class, the interests of both are made one; a complete reconciliation is effected. Trades Unions have done a vast work, but they emphasize the antagonism between capital and labor, whereas Co-operation does away with it. Co-operation has been called "the Peace of Industry."

DISTRIBUTIVE AND PRODUCTIVE CO-OPERATION.

There are two distinct sorts of labor—that which is used in making or producing things, and that used in selling or distributing them. The principle of Co-operation (namely, that the workers should own the capital and share in the profits) is applicable to both, though the manner of carrying it out is slightly different.

SUMMARY OF ADVANTAGES.

1. You help a movement that aims at economic, social and moral reform.

2. You recognize the claim men have on each other for help and sympathy.

3. You foster such virtues as prudence, forethought, self-control, toleration and trust, without which it is impossible for Co-operation to succeed.

4. You join in improving the position of the employed class by giving them also a share in the profits, making it to their interest to serve you well; and of the productive class by insuring fair wages and well ordered factories,

5. You save without effort by means of the dividend.

6. Your savings obtain a higher interest than can be had with equal security elsewhere.

[Correspondence of DAILY NEWS.]

Remove the Ice.

EDITOR DAILY NEWS:—I would like to utter a few words of protest through the columns of your paper concerning the outrageous condition of some of the pavements on the principal streets of Bellefonte, and especially would I protest against the pavements on High street. Cannot something be done to remedy the evil? There are places on the south side of West High street where the icy condition of the side walks are positively a menace to life and limb, and it seems strange to me that the proper borough authorities do not take hold of the matter. I but voice the protest of dozens of pedestrians in this article.

A CONSTANT READER.

Supreme Court and Game Laws.

An important decision rendered by the Supreme Court changes materially the game laws of the State, by completely nullifying the effect of the provision in the law, which makes the having in possession of game during a closed season, prima facia evidence of a violation of the law.

Wm. Wilkinson, of Allegheny county, was indicted for a violation of section 9 of the act of June, 1878, which provides that no person shall kill, or expose for sale, or have in his or her possession, or offer the same for sale, any quail or Virginia partridge, between the 15th of December of any year, and the 1st day of November of the next following year, under a penalty of $10 for each bird killed, exposed for sale, or had in possession. The third section of the same act provides further that the possession shall be prima facia evidence of the violation of the act,

The jury in the case rendered a special verdict, finding that while the defendant had exposed the quail for sale during the closed season, it was likewise true that it had been killed in another State, where it was not unlawful.

Sentence was imposed on Wilkinson by the Allegheny Court, and from this he appealed. The decision of the Supreme Court sets aside the lower court and holds that the game laws were only meant to prohibit the killing of game in the State, and did not apply to game brought here from other States.

Are You In It?

A pretty maid is nice to see,
And she is nice to woo;
But it matters not how sweet she be,
If she isn't sweet on you.

A Howard street girl remarked the other day that she couldn't understand why it was that more young men didn't raise 'moustaches.' Young man, are you one of them?

The young men and business men of Bellefonte ought to blush with shame at the knowledge that they allowed the Y. M. C. A to be closed up, because of the lack of funds to carry it on. It reflects badly on the moral standing of the people of Bellefonte. Reflect and think. Are you one of the young men who allowed it to be closed?

Several weddings are down on the books to occur in the near future. Several more are expected to take place before long, and if this good sleighing continues there are good prospects of quite a number before the warm weather sets in. Young man, are you in it?

Still there remains piles and piles of shoes and boots on the counters at E. L. Power's shoe store. Have you been around yet to make your selection? Remember the cut in price is almost one half. If you don't go you miss a good chance and in the end will surely find out that you weren't in it?

The Miners' Still Unsettled.

No decision has yet been arrived at with respect to the strike of the miners in Division A. which consists of Philipsburg, Osceola and Beech Creek. The hopes of the morning as to the result of the ballot for and against striking, are blasted by that of evening's returns. The following will give a conception of the divided feeling of the men in this district: Coaldale No.'s 5 and 7 voted 132 for a strike, and 7 against; Coaldale Nos. 3 and 7, 112 for and 6 against; Pardee No. 2, for 63, against 94.

These are specimens of the voting. A large number are refraining from voting and the leaders who are directing their men will have to consider the large number who are not voting with the voting minority, which probably may mean that, although there may be majority vote for a strike there may practically be a much larger number who declare that a strike would be undesirable.

The men had been led to hope, from the statement made by James White, of District No. 2, Houtzdale, which is agitating for the raise of five cents per ton, that W. H. Dill, of Clearfield, could exercise influence with the operators, and probably thus avert the strike. The operators, however, repudiate any interference from an outsider in the matter. They have issued their manifesto, and they are determined to either stand or fall by it.

AN English combine has been organized to purchase Grover Cleveland for what he is worth and sell him to the democratic party for what it thinks he's worth. One such deal and the combine can retire with abundant wealth.

WHAT an idol the democratic party is now making of Grover Cleveland. But, if he fails to lead them into the "promised land" in 1892, he would not then be regarded even as an eligible partner in a free trade clothing house.

IMPORTANT MOVEMENT!

One Which Should Concern Every Good Citizen of Bellefonte!

After Bravely but Unsuccessfully Attempting to Carry on the Work of the Young Men's Christian Association the Executive Committee Resolve to Close the Building.

Several years ago the citizens of Bellefonte pledged continuous subscriptions to the amount of $1500 per year to carry on the work of the Young Men's Christian Association in this town. For one or two years these pledges were paid, but gradually, one by one payments was refused until the income of the Association has dwindled to perhaps less than one half what was originally subscribed. These refusals were made by men who would scorn to refuse to honor their ordinary business obligations.

Two years ago the Association moved into the present quarters, which is a building that offers a most convenient and attractive resort for the young men of this community. As the rent is no higher than that previously paid this was not an increase of expense. There seemed to be a demand for a gymnasium and hence the erection of a gymnasium building was accomplished. It cost over $700 of which all was paid except about $250. For some reason the patronage of the gymnasium has almost entirely ceased. The duty of meeting the expenses devolved on such a limited number that it became a burden too heavy to bear. Meanwhile, bills for secretary's salary, light, heat, etc., have increased until it is absolutely necessary to cut off all expenses. The members of the executive committee, which met last evening, were unanimously of the opinion and without a dissenting voice, adopted the following resolution:

"WHEREAS, The Board of Directors find it impossible to collect the funds necessary to light and heat the rooms and to pay the salary of the General Secretary; and

"WHEREAS, It becomes necessary to reduce expenses as to avoid increasing the indebtedness of the Association, which is already too large; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That the reading rooms and the gymnasium be closed until such time as the Association shall have funds to carry on this part of the work, and the work of the Association be limited to the regular prayer meeting for young men on Sunday afternoons, which can be carried on by the volunteer works of the Christian young men, who are members of the Association."

This move virtually closed an institution which was designed to be a home and place of resort for the young men of Bellefonte. There are dozens not only here, but in all parts of this land who have been inspired to be useful and Christian men by the christian influences which emanated from this Association. They will read this announcement with surprise and regret. If the kindly Spirit first exhibited towards this association had been continued all would have gone on prosperously, but since it has been withdrawn and an institution designed not only to cure but to prevent young men from going in the path of evil is entirely overlooked by the generous, the only honest way is to close the doors except so far as is necessary to hold the spiritual meetings of the Association.

He Found His Wife a Corpse.

[From the Phillipsburg Journal.]

An awfully sudden death occurred on Thursday evening on South Second St., near the Haven A. M. E. church, the victim being Mrs. Margaret E. Boyle.

The husband, Hugh Boyle, returned to his home at the usual hour for supper and found that quiet reigned supreme. Not finding his wife at home he lighted the fire in the basement, as is his habit. Thinking that his wife was down town shopping he patiently waited in expectation of her return. Having occasion to go up stairs he found her on the bed. On trying to awaken her—as he thought she was asleep—and she not making any movement in response, he was alarmed, and soon learned that she was sleeping the sleep of death. He sent at once for medical aid, and the doctors declared that death had seized the poor woman as his prey fully three hours previously. The family came from Scotland many years since, and are well known in this city, and particularly in the immediate neighborhood of their residence.

Hints for Money-Making Girls.

From the Ladies' Home Journal.

Hundreds of thousands of girls have a great desire to make a little money, and I don't know whether it is a laudable one or not. I am not a believer in girls going out into the world to work unless it is absolutely necessary. But when it is then I want them to do it in the right way; I want them to think that every particle of work they do is done not only for their own sakes, not only for their employers—it must be right and honest in the sight of God. A very clever woman not very long ago wrote an article about working women, and in it she used this beautiful quotation of Ruskin's: "Queens you always should be. Queens to your lovers, to your husbands, to your sons; queens of a higher mystery to the world beyond." But she did not put the rest of the quotation, and in that lies the story of the non-success of so many girls. This is it, "But, alas! you are too often idle and careless queens, grasping at majesty in the least things, while you abdicate in the greatest."

With only the hope of making money your work will be worth little, and certainly not be worthy of consideration by noble minds or by the good God who watches over you day and night. You girls hurt yourselves, hurt your work, make it of less value and yourselves less respected because you so entirely draw the line at what you will and what you will not do.

That which your hands find to do is the duty before you, and the woman who, employed in a counting house, finds it but little trouble to keep her desk in order, and, when she has time, to straighten up somebody else's who hasn't the time, is the woman whose work is going to be noted and counted as valuable. The woman who announcing that she must get work or starve, and yet who is not willing to be at her desk at eight o'clock in the morning, deserves to starve.

The woman who knowing that for a certain number of hours she should in honor give her time to her employer, is but a poor worker when ten minutes after the hour finds her arriving, and five minutes before the hour to go away sees her getting her cloak ready and arranging for her out door costume.

The good workman doesn't drop the pen or the hammer at the stroke of the hour; he finishes first that which he is doing, for his heart is in his work, and that's the way it must be with you girls if you want to succeed and make even "a little money" for yourselves.

Machine Shop Burned.

From the Greensburg Press of Wednesday: The large machine shops of Joseph Hogl, on Alwine avenue, near the brewery, caught fire about 4 o'clock this morning and were entirely consumed. A frame stable just across the alley was also burned. The machine shop was leased by John Klingensmith, and was one of the best equipped establishments in the county. The stable belonged to Michael Nessler, of Latrobe, and was leased by Adam Fisher, who succeeded in saving everything except his hay and feed. The origin of the fire is not definitely known, but it is pretty generally believed to have been an overpressure of gas. About the time the fire was discovered a loud report was heard, which may have been an explosion of gas. The loss upon the building and machinery is about $4,000, upon which Mr. Hogl carried some $2,000 insurance. Mr. Nessler's loss is probably $400, upon which, we understand there was no insurance.

What Bellefonte is Good For.

Talk about Bellefonte as you please, it is good for one thing—beats all its neighbors hollow on it, too—and that is for coasting. There isn't a street in Bellefonte on which a person cannot slide. And the people enjoy it. Not only the small boys and girls, but the big boys and girls, the young men and ladies, married men and their wives—everybody from the three year old to the white haired. And the sleds used would stock a museum. They are all sizes, from eight inches to twelve feet long. It is a wonder that with all the coasting done so few accidents occur. Hair breadth escapes are heard of daily; little mites of children tumble off and roll and slide for rods, but receive no serious injuries. But it is fun, good fun; and now that there is such good coasting all who enjoy it should take advantage of the opportunity

Mr. J. S. McCargar, the gentleman who keeps the good cigars and fine billiard parlors up town, visited old Tyrone friends on Friday.

WASHINGTON WHISPERS

Calvin S. Brice Working Hard to Have the Subsidy Bill Passed.

COCKRELL'S POPULARITY.

Missourians Believe He Is the Greatest Man in the Senate, and He Can Stay There as Long as He Lives—A Man Who Will Be Missed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—A vote will not be taken on the subsidy bill until next Tuesday. While the friends of the bill pretended that they desired to take a vote on it last night, the truth of the matter is that both sides wanted to postpone it as long as possible. There are a larger number of absentees at the present time, but it is thought that next week there will be a good attendance in the house.

Brice on Hand.

In the mean time the subsidy lobby is increasing in size and importance. Senator-elect Calvin S. Brice, the chairman of the Democratic national committee, is here working hard to have the bill passed, and it is believed that his influence will amount to something on the Democratic side of the house. Mr. Brice attracts great attention here. Last night he had a long consultation with Senator Gorman. It is believed that no matter whether Hill or Cleveland should be nominated for president he would continue the chairman of his committee, as that is the wish of Senator Gorman.

Genial and Approachable.

There is no doubt that Mr. Brice would like to see Mr. Cleveland nominated, but as chairman of the national committee he considers that he should be impartial in the matter. However, he has been recently saying a number of nice things about Governor Hill. Mr. Brice is a very genial and approachable man, and it is predicted here that personally he will be one of the most popular men in the senate.

A Man Who Will Be Missed.

The present member of congress who will be greatly missed in the next house will be John Wiley, who represents one of the Buffalo districts. For a first termer Mr. Wiley has made a useful member, and he is a universal favorite, not only among his colleagues, but with everybody in Washington; and his charming wife is just as popular as he is. It is asserted that Mr. Wiley could have been renominated and re elected if he had so desired, and it is also said that he contributed just as much to the campaign fund of his successor as if he had himself been a candidate.

Cockrell's Popularity.

Senator Cockrell, of Missouri, who is down for a speech on the silver question, holds the affections of his people to a greater extent than probably any other man in public life in this country. In Missouri every man who is a Democrat is a Cockrell man, and he is pretty sure to remain in the senate as long as he lives. At the end of his present term he will have served for eighteen years. While in Missouri he is considered the most valuable man on the stump that the Democracy has, and while it is next to impossible to make a Missourian believe that he is not the greatest man in the senate, it must be admitted that the senator does not attract great interest by his speeches here.

Conkling's Compliment.

It is generally admitted, though, that personally he exercises a greater influence among his colleagues than any other senator. The late Roscoe Conkling paid him probably what was the greatest compliment he ever paid to any man. On the occasion Conkling had just come into the senate while a vote was being taken, and he was not familiar with the question that was being considered. In answer to the call of his name Mr. Conkling replied that he would vote as did the senator from Missouri. He then took occasion to say that he would accept Senator Cockrell's word as gospel on any subject that might come before the senate that was not a political one.

A Remarkable Memory.

The senator has probably one of the most remarkable memories for names and faces of any man in the country, and to that fact is largely due his great political success. He can return after half a dozen years' absence to some old farmer's house and ask after a dozen children, calling each by name. He defeated the great ex-Governor John S. Phelps, who was probably the ablest man Missouri ever had except Benton, simply on account of his remarkable memory, through which he won the affection of the people.

"An Infernal System."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The annual conference of the board of Indian commissioners of the United States, with representatives of the various religious bodies interested in the welfare of the Indians, was held here yesterday. Senator Dawes expressed himself as strongly opposed to the proposed transfer of the Indian bureau to the war department.

Professor C. C. Paintor referred to the reservation system as "an infernal system," and the Hon. Hiram Price, ex-commissioner of Indian affairs, said the sale of firearms to the Indians on or off the reservation should be prohibited; that the agents should be paid more, and that the Indian commissioner should have more power. At the evening session the causes of the present Indian outbreak were discussed, and the conference then adjourned.

Frightful Powder Explosion.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—An explosion occurred in the mills of the California powder works at Powing Station last night. Six white men and two Chinese were at work in the mills at the time. One of the Chinamen was literally blown to pieces. Fred Larsen, one of the whites, was severely burned about the arms and body. He will probably die. C. J. Campbell was burned and mutilated about the head and body. His injuries are fatal. The cause of the explosion is not known. The loss to the mills is estimated at $3,500.

Three Prisoners Break Jail.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 10.—Three prisoners have escaped from the Ohio penitentiary by scaling the wall with a ladder. They are M. Harding, four years, shooting to kill, Cuyahoga county; Hurl Porter, three years, forgery, Belmont county; Henry Post, two years, assault, Summit county. Harding is a one armed man. They have not been apprehended.

THE POLITICAL ARENA.

Governor William E. Russell was inaugurated governor of Massachusetts, and his message made some suggestions as to ballot reform.

E. T. Champlin, an Alliance man, was chosen speaker of the Minnesota house of representatives.

In Missouri Senator Vest was unanimously renominated by the Democratic caucus. The Democrats have an overwhelming majority in the legislature, and Mr. Vest will be elected beyond doubt.

The present situation of affairs in Connecticut is that the senate has declared the Democratic state officers elected, and has adjourned till next Tuesday; the house has set about an inquiry as to whether any one was elected, and has adjourned to Jan. 20. Meanwhile the old state officers, Republicans, hold their offices.

In Indiana the fifty-seventh session of the general assembly opened, the Democrats controlling the organization in both branches. Mason J. Niblock, of Vincennes, was chosen speaker of the house.

Chairman Brice, of the Democratic national committee, is in Washington, preparing to open headquarters for the presidential campaign of 1892.

Governor-elect Boyd, of Nebraska, was sworn into office. The scenes attending the legislative organization were of a most exciting character. Troops were called out, but were unable to preserve order, and several legislators had their heads and hats smashed. One was so badly injured that he had to be taken to the hospital.

In Maine both branches of the legislature met in joint convention, and the oath of office was administered to Governor Burleigh by the president of the senate.

In New Hampshire Governor-elect Tuttle was inaugurated. The oath of office was administered to Mr. Tuttle by President McLane, of the senate.

In the United States senate Mr. Stewart asked unanimous consent that a vote be taken on the finance bill and amendments at 4 o'clock on Saturday. Objection was made by Mr. Gorman, and it was agreed that the vote shall be taken before adjournment on Wednesday next.

In California Governor Henry Markham was inaugurated in office. The Republican members of the legislature held a caucus and unanimously renominated Leland Stanford for United States senator. The Democrats decided to give their complimentary vote to Stephen M. White.

EMMA ABBOTT BURIED.

Our Little Songstress Reposes in Graceland Cemetery in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—The city of her birth has bade a sad farewell to Emma Abbott, and all that is mortal of the little songstress reposes in a vault in Graceland cemetery. The vast throng which filled every nook and corner of the spacious Central Music hall Friday morning, and the equally large crowd on the outside, which strove in vain to gain admittance, was a strikingly popular tribute to a typical American girl, who from a lowly position had by energy and determination carved out her path to fame and fortune.

The remains, clad in satin of spotless white and inclosed in a magnificent casket, rested at the foot of the platform. The religious services were conducted by Professor Swing and Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas, while a mixed quartet rendered "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and other sacred selections which were favorites with the late prima donna. In the audience the Theatrical lodge of Elks attended in a body, while in the balcony and galleries the very rich and the very poor were indiscriminately mingled, and there were few dry eyes in the vast assemblage when Professor Swing dilated on the endearing characteristics of the deceased. At the conclusion of the services those present were afforded an opportunity of taking a final farewell, and the casket was then closed and sealed.

The procession of carriages which formed the cortege to Graceland cemetery was over half a mile in length. The honorary pall bearers were J. H. McVicker, Harry L. Hamlin, Thomas W. Prior, Milward Adams, H. J. Powers and W. J. Davis. The active pall bearers were C. H. Pratt, Signor Preuette, Signor Michelina and George Loomis, of the Emma Abbott company.

A BONE GRAFTING OPERATION.

It Was Rough on the Dog, but Will Probably Cure the Boy.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 10.—Six weeks ago Sammy Radin fell at his home in Germany and broke his right leg below the knee. His leg was set, and the family emigrated to Pittsburg. On arrival here it was discovered that the broken bone had decayed for a space of six and a half inches. The boy's parents would not permit amputation of the limb, but consented to have bone grafting tried, and the boy was removed to Mercy hospital. Yesterday the operation was performed by several surgeons of prominence. Two black and tan puppies about five weeks old were procured. The lad's condition was excellent, he having slept well and had a good appetite. He was not put under the influence of any drug, but sat up and witnessed the whole operation. One of the dogs was used; the other reserved for a second resort.

Ether was administered, after which the lower end of a hind leg was amputated. The dog's bone was pinched off with forceps in about thirty pieces. These were placed in the granulations of the tissue of the boy's leg where it had surrounded the bone. The wound was then covered with oiled silk, and the leg dressed with antiseptic gauze. The dog used died from the effects of the ether. The physicians say that everything favors a successful operation.

Flower Would Take It.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—A Washington dispatch to The Sun says: Representative Roswell P. Flower, of New York, when asked concerning his candidacy for the governorship of that state, said to a Sun representative that he was not making any effort to secure the nomination. He spoke very frankly about the matter, however, and had no hesitation in saying that if the nomination were tendered him he would accept it. The position, Mr. Flower says, is one of great honor, second only to the presidency itself, and any citizen of New York should be proud to occupy it. He is not, however, seeking the honor, and if he accepts it he says it will have to come to him unsolicited."

It Sweeps the Golden Gate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—A ten inch rifled cannon, the first piece of modern ordnance ever received here for coast defense, has been placed in position on Alcatraz island, commanding a sweep of the Golden Gate.

A BLOW AT THE KAISER.

That Offer of Frederick Francis III to Prince Bismarck.

A VERITABLE BOMBSHELL.

The Grand Duke Is Opposed to King William's Policy, and This Is the First Open Blow Against Him. William Has Cause for Alarm.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Berlin advices state that a bombshell in the imperial cabinet could hardly have caused more consternation than the report that Frederick Francis III, the grand duke of Mecklinburg-Schwerin, had offered to Prince Bismarck the presidency of the grand ducal ministry. The grand duke is the head and front of the feudal rulers of Germany. Attached by an ancestry to the Slavs, he made that attachment stronger by marriage to a member of the Russian imperial family.

His family is older than the Hohenzollerns and fully as proud, and he considers himself at least the equal of the German emperor. His discontent with the kaiser's policy, both in its anti-Russian features and in its contempt of ancient feudal privileges, has long been apparent, and if the statement of the usually well informed Frankfurter Zeitung proves true it will be taken for granted that he has now struck the first open blow against the ruler of the new German empire. There is no doubt that he has many sympathizers, and that the kaiser has good cause for alarm.

Gladstone's Position.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—It is stated that there are no terms too strong to express the assurance given to Mr. O'Brien, through Mr. Arnold Morley, M. P., by Mr. Gladstone, to the effect that any arrangement made by him for the reunion of the two branches of the Nationalist party must be based, not on any temporary withdrawal of Mr. Parnell from the political field, but on his permanent and unconditional retirement to private life as the only condition on which the English Liberals will again act with the Irish members to secure home rule.

This, the English leader declares, is a stipulation that under any circumstances will in no wise be departed from.

The Pall Mall Gazette, under the heading, "The Boulogne Harlequinade," again pays its respects to the Irish conferees. It says, "Messrs. McCarthy and Sexton have gone to France, and Mr. O'Brien, having concluded his part, Mr. Dillon now purposes to enter the scene from the opposite wing."

The Fate of Evicted Tenants.

DUBLIN, Jan. 10.—The fate of the evicted tenants on the Smith-Barry estate is at present the subject of much anxiety among the Irish leaders. Mr. O'Brien, as one of the authors of the plan of campaign, is especially interested.

Strenuous efforts are therefore making to prevent the entire collapse of the movement. The inhabitants of New Tipperary have gone back to the old town. To obtain funds to prevent a total depopulation of his new settlement has been one of Mr. O'Brien's chief objects in his Boulogne conferences with Mr. Parnell.

O'Brien Won't Be Hurried.

BOULOGNE, Jan. 10.—Mr. William O'Brien, referring to a report that he had announced his intention of returning to England at once and surrendering to the authorities in order to serve the term of imprisonment to which he has been sentenced, says:

The report is baseless, as also is every telegram I have seen about our intentions here or in America. We do not intend that newspaper rumors or criticisms shall hurry us in the steps we consider necessary for the safety of the cause.

Natalie Will Leave Servia.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—An agreement has been reached between the Servian regency, ex-King Milan and ex-Queen Natalie, whereby the ex-queen consents to reside permanently outside of Servia.

Will Resent Leo's Attitude.

ROME, Jan. 10.—The government is reported to be preparing for a seriously aggressive step in resentment at the pope's persistent attitude of hostility toward the Italian monarchy.

A Bad Fire in Moscow.

MOSCOW, Jan. 10—The Royal hotel in this city was burned last night. Nine persons were fatally injured during the fire. Among the victims was a Russian general.

The Jews Must Go.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 10.—The minister of the interior has issued an order for the expulsion of all Jews in the Terek regions of the Caucasus.

McAuliffe Ready for Sullivan.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Joe McAuliffe, the pugilist, with his wife and child, were cabin passengers on the White Star steamer Britannic, which arrived at this port Friday from Liverpool. McAuliffe, in an interview regarding his recent fight with Frank P. Slavin at the Pelican club, in London, said: "It was a fair and square fight, and I was fairly and squarely knocked out. I have no excuse for my defeat. As for admitting that Slavin is a better man, or, for that matter, anybody else, I deny that. I am ready to fight all comers, barring none. I am ready to fight Sullivan any time he wants to make a match."

Stationer Moore's Failure.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Clement H. Moore, wholesale stationer at 85 Market street, failed, after making preferences, aggregating $30,000, to Frederick Bergner & Co., of Baltimore; the Morgan Envelope company, of Springfield, Mass., and William Otis Day, also of Springfield, Mass. It is understood that Mr. Moore's liabilities are $70,000, with assets about the same.

The Powder Pool Collapses.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The powder pool, organized about eighteen months ago, has collapsed, and the price of powder has consequently suffered a drop. The cause of the dissolution was the competition of the eastern firms.

The Baseball Tangle.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—A. W. Thurman, of the baseball conference committee, has arrived here. He comes to try and settle the claims of the different aspirants of the Athletic franchise. He has met representatives of the Players' league, and he will meet the minority stockholders of the old Athletic club.

THE CAROLINE ISLANDS WAR.

Further Details of the Uprising—The Torch Was Liberally Used.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Herbert L. Rand, of Carthage, Ills., the newly appointed consul at Ponape, says the communication received here from his brother, the Rev. Frank Rand, who has been a missionary in the Caroline islands for sixteen years, confirms the news of the recent fighting on the islands between the natives and the Spanish soldiers.

Further details show that in the first battle the Spaniards were repulsed and forty of them were killed. Some time after that a Spanish man-of-war bombarded several villages, and the troops afterward went ashore and destroyed a number of houses by fire, including the king's palace and the missionary buildings which were on the islands adjacent. A detachment of eighty soldiers landed at Uana, and set fire to the buildings there.

The natives attacked them, and all but one, including an officer of high rank, were killed. Oua was afterward shelled. Groves of cocoanut and bread fruit trees were destroyed. On the Sunday following a detachment of Spaniards effected a landing on Ponape and sixty of them were killed, the Ponapens losing only thirty. On the Saturday following another party landed and burned all of the houses of the natives, church, school house and mission buildings on that island, including the Rev. Mr. Rand's house, in which there were stored several thousand dollars' worth of Ponape books and a great lot of personal property belonging to the missionaries. The women and children were then loaded into small boats and taken to the island of Kusale, where they would not be molested. Consul Rand will ask the government to station one of the men-of-war recently ordered there at Ponape until affairs are finally settled.

The Bogus Divorce Lawyers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Lawyer William Duryea Hughes and his partner, William H. Buttner, who have swelled their incomes by the procuring of a series of bogus divorces, were brought to court Friday for pleading. Buttner was the first called, and after glancing at the two indictments he declared that the one charging him with forgery was a mistake and an outrage. "I am not guilty as to this one," said Mr. Buttner, "and as to the one charging me with larceny I would like to be given until Monday to consider it." His request was granted. Hughes was then called to the bar. He asked to be allowed until Monday also to enter his plea. His wish was complied with. It is thought that Hughes will plead guilty on Monday, while the opinion is that Buttner will make a fight before acknowledging his guilt.

A TALL MAN AND A SHORT MAN.

They Murder and Rob, but Are Finally Brought to Grief.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Samuel L. Jacobson, a young merchant, while entering his residence on Webster street on the night of Aug. 15 last, was shot by some party or parties unknown and died in a few days. Previous to his death he declared that he had been attacked by two highwaymen, one of whom was tall and the other short. This was all the description he could give of his assailants, and the police were rather skeptical regarding his story. They inclined to the belief that his assailant was a woman whose name Jacobson wished to keep secret. The affair created something of a sensation owing to its many mysterious features.

Since Jacobson's death many complaints have been made to the authorities of highway robberies committed throughout the city. The complainants invariably described their assailants as a tall and a short man. A man named Sydney Bell was arrested a few days ago on suspicion of being one of the robbers. Bell said he came from Fresno and made a partial confession. He implicated one Edward Campbell.

The latter was subsequently arrested, and last night made a startling confession. He said that Bell and himself on the night of Aug. 15 last started out to hold up some one. While on the lookout for a victim a man alighted from a car on the corner of California and Webster streets. Bell confronted the man, and at the point of a pistol ordered him to throw up his hands. The stranger grappled with Bell, and the latter fired. Bell and Campbell then ran away. Bell admits numerous robberies, but denies the shooting of Jacobson.

An Oatmeal Trust Now.

AKRON, O., Jan. 10.—From information current here, and as a result of meetings held in this and other cities, a combination of oatmeal manufacturers will meet in Chicago next Tuesday to form the American Oatmeal company, with Ferdinand Schumaker, of this city, as president. The result of the combine will be the probable closing down of the smaller mills. The combine is to be on the plan of the American Harvester company trust, each mill losing its identity in the big concern, the capital stock of which will be several millions of dollars.

A General Exchange for Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—The joint committee of the exchanges of this city met at the board of trade rooms yesterday for the purpose of considering the advisability of building a general exchange. So general was the response that the projectors will at once proceed to raise the necessary money to erect the building. It is proposed to have a structure 150 by 400 feet in a central location, which will cost about $2,000,000.

Non-union Men Attacked.

LYNN, Mass., Jan. 10.—An angry crowd of several hundred persons gathered about the morocco factory of John E. Donallon, where a large force of non-union men is employed, yesterday afternoon, and gave vent to their anger by throwing missiles through the windows and insulting the men. The police had to be called to disperse the mob. It was expected that the scenes of the afternoon would be repeated in the evening, and a large force of police was on hand, but no demonstration occurred.

Two Newspapers Burned Out.

AURORA, Mo., Jan. 10.—News has just reached here that Mount Vernon, county seat of Lawrence county, suffered a serious loss by fire Wednesday night. About twenty houses and several large stores were destroyed. The Chieftain and The Fountain and Journal printing offices and the Mount Vernon bank building were burned. Loss estimated at $50,000.

He Got Away from the Door.

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Rt. Rev. Bishop Benjamin H. Paddock, who has been at death's door for the past three weeks, is much improved, and his return to his duties is soon expected.

SAVAGES BURN A TOWN.

The Idaho Bannocks Now Take Their Turn on the Warpath.

ALL QUIET AT PINE RIDGE.

The Military Now Exercising a General Supervision Over Everything, and the Situation Looks Favorable for a Peaceful Settlement.

POCATELLO, Idaho, Jan. 9.—The Indians on the Fort Hall reserve are on the warpath and have taken possession of this town. They have already set fire to a number of buildings, and have announced their determination to complete the destruction of the place.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, Jan. 8.—Advices received from Pocatello, Idaho, state that the Indians on the Fort Hall reserve have been dancing, and 200 in war paint have taken to the mountains with arms, causing great excitement. Governor Wiley has been asked to order the militia to Pocatello, and probably a company of United States cavalry at Boise barracks will be sent there.

The Indians on the reserve number 1,200 or 1,500, more than half of whom are Bannocks, who caused the prolonged war twelve years ago. The people of Pocatello have almost no arms, and the towns of Blackfoot and Eagle Rock are on the border of the reserve. The Indians who took to the mountains are working eastward toward Wyoming. The belief is expressed that if the Indians at Pocatello go on the warpath they will be joined by the tribes on Lemhi reservation, who number 500, embracing 125 able bodied bucks.

An Attack of the Craze.

WATERLOO, Ia., Jan. 9.—It is reported here that the Musquake Indians, located in the southern part of Taman county, have an attack of the Messiah craze, and there is apt to be an outbreak at any time. There are about 300 of them. The Government Greys, the Muscatine Rifles and two companies I. N. G. have been ordered in readiness, and it is expected that the company here will receive orders very soon.

"We Are All Hostiles Now."

SPRINGVIEW, Neb., Jan. 9.—Chief Yellow Horse, formerly lieutenant of the Indian police at Rosebud agency, passed through this town with considerable following. When asked if he was not afraid to meet the warring element of his tribe he replied: "No; we are all hostiles now."

Yellow Horse was supposed to be friendly. Swift Bear and his band, formerly of the same agency, also declared for war. Both chiefs are supposed to be bearing for the hostile camp near Pine Ridge.

Peaceful at Pine Ridge.

PINE RIDGE, S. D., Jan. 9.—A much needed change has taken place in the management of affairs at this agency. In accordance with the instructions received from President Harrison, to have the control of the Indian campaign transferred to the jurisdiction of the war department, Capt. Ewers, of the Fifth infantry, has taken hold, and from now on will exercise a general supervision over everything. Royer will retain his position as civil agent, but will really have nothing whatever to do with the management of the agency, the position which he will occupy being merely a clerical one. The change gives satisfaction to every one, and restores confidence among the residents here.

The situation looks more favorable for a peaceful settlement. Runners from the hostile camps and prominent chiefs from the Ogallalas, who, with their people, have been forced to remain at that place, have been into the agency and have held a conference with Gen. Miles. They all declare that it never had been the intention of the Pine Ridge Sioux to take up arms against the whites, and that such a step was the last thing contemplated by them.

Miles Will Make Short Work of It.

Numerous small bands kept slipping away from the hostile camp and reporting at the agency, and soon there will be none left at that camp but the Brules, the Indians who first precipitated the trouble. Red Cloud and his band will in all probability arrive at the agency Friday. Little Wound, one of the best and most powerful of the Pine Ridge Sioux, will also come in.

Later reports are to the effect that all the Sioux will come in, Brules and all. Gen. Miles expects to close the campaign within the next few days.

The court of inquiry which was to have been convened Wednesday in the case of Col. Forsythe, of the Seventh regiment, did not meet, and it is not thought it will for some time to come.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Mr. A. J. Wright, of the firm of A. P. Wright & Co., was asked Thursday morning what he had to say to the charge of the assignee of Bateman & Co., to the effect that his firm obtained certain stocks in an irregular manner. Mr. Wright replied that the statement published is full of inaccuracies. "We have not taken anything but what belonged to us. Bateman & Co. on Monday of this week owed us $54,000. We asked for our account on that day and could not get it. We secured $48,000 on Tuesday morning, and they are still owing us a good deal of money, which they admit. We acted in a perfectly legal manner, following the best advice obtainable. We were trying to protect ourselves. Because we succeeded the other creditors are kicking. In a day or two we expect the whole matter will be settled, when we shall give a statement of the whole case."

Poultry and Pet Stock Show.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Jan. 9.—The annual exhibition of the Delaware and Susquehanna Poultry and Pet Stock association is in progress here. Nearly 1,000 birds comprise the poultry exhibit. Mr. I. K. Felch, of Natick, Mass., is judge in this department, and has already awarded some of the prizes in the principal classes. In the dog department are shown about 100 fine canines, ranging in value as high as $10,000. J. Otis Fellows, of Hornellsville, N. Y., acts as judge in this department. The exhibition continues until Feb. 9.

Four Buildings Burned.

BREWSTERS, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Early Thursday morning J. A. Maher's meat market, H. B. Fowler's clothing store, Hutchings' barber shop and a Chinese laundry were burned to the ground. The total loss is

A REVOLUTION IN CHILI.

Brought About by a Long Struggle Between the President and Congress.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Cable messages received here from Buenos Ayres Thursday announced that a revolution has broken out in Chili. The revolution is the result of the long struggle between President Balmaseda, on the one hand, and the majority of congress on the other.

It has been feared that the president would throw the influence of the government into the presidential election this year, and thus secure the succession to the presidency of one of his own creatures, he himself being ineligible. Congress has repeatedly demanded the resignation or dismissal of obnoxious ministers, but the president has refused to comply.

What Does All This Mean?

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—The Frankfurter Zeitung announces that the grand duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Frederick Francis III, has offered Prince Bismarck the presidency of the ministry of the Grand Duchy of Mecklenburg-Schwerin. Prince Bismarck is said to have declined the grand duke's kind offer. According to the story, Emperor William upon hearing of the proposal abandoned his proposed visit to Cannes.

The Irish Difficulty.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The mysterious meetings between Messrs. Parnell and O'Brien at Boulogne do not seem to be taken very seriously by the English Liberal press.

The Daily News suggests that Mr. O'Brien might be better employed in cooperating with Home Rulers on this side of the channel rather than wasting his time and energies in fruitless and scarcely intelligible conferences with Mr. Parnell at Boulogne.

"It never seems to have struck Mr. O'Brien to ask how any compromise he may come to is to be enforced."

After saying that the American delegate has not the slightest authority to propose or accept the resignation of Mr. McCarthy, The News adds: "Mr. O'Brien's appeal to the press for reticence is touching, but he cannot complain of us for saying that we are glad that these parleys have ceased."

DUBLIN, Jan. 8.—According to a statement in United Ireland, Mr. Parnell is now on his way here, and will make his first public appearance at the Limerick meeting on Sunday next. It adds:

"He will make an important statement. Until then we ask our people to possess their souls in patience. Whatever the result of the conference may have been, of this we all feel assured, that if there be any way out of the present difficulty which can save the honor of the country and restore the unity of the Irish party it will be discovered by these two men, whose first and only thought is what is best for Ireland."

The Strike in Scotland.

GLASGOW, Jan. 9.—Six thousand railroad men are still on strike in Scotland. There is no improvement in the movement of goods trains. Outside subscriptions for the relief of the strikers are coming in so rapidly and freely as to render the men competent to care for their families and prolong the trouble.

TURNER DENIES IT.

He Asserts That He Did Not Offer $5,000 for Ingalls' Seat.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 9.—The Times' Washington dispatch says its representative interviewed Mr Turner on the subject of the letter alleged to have been written by him and published in The Advocate regarding an offer that he is alleged to have made for the Kansas senatorship. He said that he had not seen the text of the letter. He declared, however, that he had written no letter offering to give $5,000 to McGrath in the event of his (Turner's) election to the senate to succeed Mr. Ingalls.

The letter referred to was addressed to President McGrath, of the State Alliance, and dated Dec. 31. The following is an extract:

I have no money to spend in a fight. If I succeed I could and would put up $5,000, but it is difficult to use it that way—that is, promise in case of success. Yet you may have some friends who would be willing to take such chance. We will pass that bill to establish that United States judicial district, and I can have a United States marshal and clerk. The first changes with administrations, and the clerk is for life. But I guess you know I take care of my friends. We have agreed not to agitate this bill until the election there is over, for Ingalls would be jumped on for all the places and injure him, or some of the eastern fellows might try to commit him against it. Now, I will leave the whole matter with you and Hill and Wilson, and abide results with content.

OFFERED UP AS A SACRIFICE.

Winnipeg Indians Kill a Boy to Bring Good Luck in Hunting.

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 9.—In June last Blue Horn, an Indian, went hunting and trapping in the Beaver Hills, near Fort Saskatchewan, accompanied by a boy about 8 years old, the eldest son of a Victoria Indian. While they were looking at the traps one day Blue Horn sent the boy back to camp. When he returned he was surprised to find that the boy was not there. The other Indians in camp searched for the boy, but did not find him.

Yesterday a halfbreed from Beaver Lake found in the woods not far from New Beaver Lake trail a skeleton in a standing position, the arms stretched out and wrists tied to two trees. He did not disturb it, but went to tell the father of the lost boy in order that he might see if he could identify it. From circumstances surrounding the affair it is evident the lost boy had been offered as a sacrifice to secure good luck in hunting by Indians. As is their custom, the savages had hung about the body bits of cloth and trinkets to propitigate the Great Spirit.

Plunged in Front of the Engine.

CHICAGO, Jan 9.—While one of Lyon & Healy's moving wagons containing four men was waiting the passage of an Illinois Central train at the Eighteenth street crossing, the horses became frightened from the light from the locomotive headlight and plunged directly in front of the engine. The wagon was demolished, Charles Genenweiser hurled fifty feet away and instantly killed, and Martin Raab, Charles Geisler and Christopher Immer fatally injured.

A Verdict Against the Priest.

LONG ISLAND CITY, Jan. 9.—The jury in the suit of John Banas against the Rev. Aloysius Steffens, the pastor of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church of Woodhaven, for alienating the affections of Banas' wife, returned a verdict giving the plaintiff $7,500 damages.

The Strike a Failure.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 10.—The strike of Hungarian laborers at Carnegie's Braddock works is a total failure. The foreigners are leaving in large numbers.

A BRUTE USES VITRIOL.

He Flung a Bottle of It in the Face of His Father-in-Law.

A FIENDISH SON OF ITALY.

He Abused His Young Wife Till She Fled to Her Parents' Home—Then He Shot at Her and Attacked Her Father—A Villainous Career.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Pretty little Rosie, the 16-year-old daughter of Louis Martragelo, an Italian street sweeper, went out from under her father's roof less than twelve months ago the blushing bride of Alfonso Braggo, her countryman, who had wooed her for a year and won by sheer persistence. He was more than twice the age of Rosie, ugly of looks and deeply scarred by smallpox. His reputation was not of the best, and he was known to be quarrelsome to boot. There was no lack of croakers at the wedding to predict that the union would come to no good in spite of Braggo's soda water factory that promised to Rosie a better support than she could have got by marrying on her own level—the level of the dump.

That was the consideration that had persuaded the old street sweeper to give his daughter to Braggo, and as he sat talking it over by the stove with her mother in their tenement, that seemed lonely without Rosie, they agreed between pulls at their black clay pipes that she was a good girl and that it would come out all right.

But it did not come out all right, though Rosie tried her best to be a good wife to her master, to whom she had been thus sold, body and soul. Before many days he began to growl at her and then to beat her

Then She Left Him.

He has a little boy of an earliar marriage that filled his new mother's ears with stories of his villainous cruelty. When at last she was told, too, that Braggo had another wife in town whom he did not beat or abuse she left him, and went back to the street sweeper's home in Twelfth street. In a family council over the stove, after she had told her story, it was agreed that Braggo was a bad man and that she should stay.

And stay she did, not with her husband's consent, though. He came, not once but many times, to demand that she should return to him, threatening all manner of things if she did not, but she steadily refused. It had become current talk in the neighborhood that Braggo had beaten and abused his first wife until she died, and Rosie did not hanker after her fate. The bad blood in Braggo grew hotter, and at last it boiled over when he met Rosie one afternoon coming home from the sweater's shop where she sewed. He grabbed her by the arm and insisted that she should go with him then and there.

Attempted to Shoot Her.

When she broke away from him and ran shrieking down the street he pulled a pistol and shot at her three or four times. It was well that his rage made his aim unsteady so that he could not hit, and she escaped unhurt into a neighboring tenement, while the neighbors drove Braggo away.

He was not arrested, though he should have been. No one made any charge against him, and the police probably never heard of the shooting. The neighborhood is filled with Italians, who everywhere pursue the policy of non-interference in private quarrels that is characteristic of the swarthy southerners. It is only when somebody is killed that the police are called in.

A mere stab wound or a bullet that doesn't kill is scored down—"hung up," as it were—against a day of reckoning that is seldom long in coming. "I fix him myself" is the motto of New York's Italy, and pretty soon Mott or Mulberry street echoes with the sounds of another fight and somebody is "fixed." The account is squared. In this case Rosie's friends were slow in coming to the front, for Braggo had a particularly bad name. He showed himself worthy of it by threatening when he couldn't have his way to kill the whole family.

Flung Vitriol in His Face.

Apparently he really meant it, and decided to begin from the top, with the old man. The street sweeper was up before sunrise Thursday morning, getting ready to go with his broom to his beat where he was to sweep today. Looking out of the window, Rosie saw her father go down the street with Braggo, who had probably been waiting for him below, and now seemed to be arguing her case with him. She saw them almost reach the corner, but she did not see her husband suddenly raise his hand and dash something from a bottle he held in the face of her father. Some of the bystanders saw Braggo run down the avenue as the old street sweeper fell moaning piteously on the icy pavement.

They picked him up, writhing in fearful pain, and carried him to his house, while some one ran for a policeman. When the latter had procured an ambulance Martragelo was taken to Bellevue hospital. The stuff Braggo had thrown in his face was vitriol—he used it in his business and had it handy, evidently—and it had burned him awfully, in places clear down to the bone, and the flesh dropped off in great chunks. The eyes had escaped, the surgeon said, but even so his wounds are very severe.

Worse Than Jack the Ripper.

The police caught Braggo, and the Italian colony was greatly excited over the news when it was brought up by a reporter. Selecting an Irish tenant as their spokesman, they charged him with the message to the authorities that Braggo ought to be kept locked up for life, for "he is worse," added the woman on her own account, "than Jack the Ripper."

If half the stories they tell of him in the colony are true he certainly is. They say that he killed a man in Italy and fled across the sea, for which reason he can never go back.

They further assert upon the authority, they say, of his own son, that he is responsible for the death of his grandfather as well as his first wife through neglect and abuse. Two months ago, they say, he shot a man in Mott street in a quarrel, wounding him in the arm, and that twice the police came near getting him. If that is so he will get the benefit of that little escapade, too, now that they have got him at last.

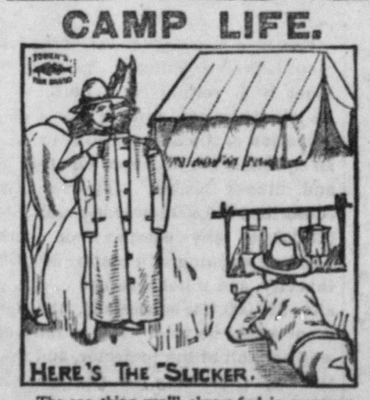
CAMP LIFE.



The one thing you'll always find in every cowboy's outfit when he goes on the spring round-up is a "Fish Brand" Pommel Slicker. They make the only perfect saddle coat, and come either black or yellow. They protect the whole front of the rider's body, being made to fit round the outside of the saddle entire. When used as a walking coat, the extension pieces neatly overlap each other, making a regular overcoat with a double storm-proof front. When riding, the saddle is dry as a bone, from pommel to cantle, and the rider is entirely protected in every part of his body. These "Slickers," being of extra width, make fine blankets for camp. Beware of worthless imitations, every garment stamped with "Fish Brand" Trade Mark. Don't accept any inferior coat when you can have the "Fish Brand Slicker" delivered without extra cost. Particulars and illustrated catalogue free.

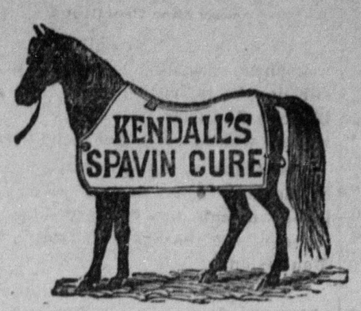
TO WEAK MEN

Suffering from the effects of youthful errors, early decay, wasting weakness, lost manhood, etc., I will send a valuable treatise (sealed) containing full particulars for home cure, FREE of charge. A splendid medical work; should be read by every man who is nervous and debilitated. Address,

Prof. F. C. FOWLER, Moodus, Conn.



The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. Read proof below:

BROOKLYN, Conn., May 5, '90.
DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.:
SIRS:—Last Summer I cured a Curb upon my horse with your celebrated Kendall's Spavin Cure and it was the best job I ever saw done. I have a dozen empty bottles, having used it with perfect success, curing every thing I tried it on. My neighbor had a horse with a very bad Spavin that made him lame. He asked me how to cure it. I recommended Kendall's Spavin Cure. He cured the Spavin in just three weeks.
Yours respectfully,
WOLCOTT WITTER.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 4, '90.
DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.:
Dear Sirs:—I have been selling more of Kendall's Spavin Cure and Flint's Condition Powders than ever before. One man said to me, it was the best Powder I ever kept and the best he ever used.
Respectfully,
OTTO L. HOFFMAN.

CHITTENANGO, N. Y., May 19, '90.
DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.,
Dear Sirs:—I have used several bottles of your Kendall's Spavin Cure with perfect success, on a valuable and blooded mare that was quite lame with a Bone Spavin. The mare is now entirely free from lameness and shows no bunch on the joint.
Respectfully, F. H. HUTCHINS.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

MONROE, La., May 8, '90.
DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.,
Gents:—I think it my duty to render you my thanks for your far famed Kendall's Spavin Cure. I had a four year old filly which I prized very highly. She had a very severe swollen leg. I tried about eight different kinds of medicines which did no good. I purchased a bottle of your Kendall's Spavin Cure which cured her in four days.
I remain yours,
MARION DOWDEN.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.

THE BIG RAILROAD DEAL.

The Men, and the Roads They Represent, Who Will Manage Things.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The representatives of the various western railroads who were appointed upon the recommendation of the presidents of those roads, who met in conference some weeks ago at Mr. Pierpont Morgan's house, assembled Thursday at the Windsor hotel. The gentlemen present will hereafter be known as the advisory board. They have power to act in any and all matters that may be brought before the advisory board, and they represent the following roads:

Northwestern, President Hughitt, Director Keep; Atchison, President Marvel, Director Magoun; Rock Island, President Cable, Director Brewster; Wabash, President Ashley, Director Hayes; Illinois Central, Director S. V. R. Conger; Iowa Central, President Sage, Director Eckert; Burlington, President Perkins, Director Payne; Missouri Pacific, President Jay Gould, Director George Gould; Rio Grande and Western, President Palmer, Director Dodge; Denver and Rio Grande, President Moffit, Director Coppell: Union Pacific, President Dillon; Southern Pacific, President Huntington, Director Stubbs; St. Paul, President Miller, Director Spencer; Northern Pacific, President Oakes, Director Wegg: Missouri, Kansas and Texas, President W. K. Enos.

President Miller, of the St. Paul, called the meeting to order in one of the hotel parlors. The doors were closed, and the board proceeded to organize by the adoption of bylaws and rules to govern their future actions. The general expression previous to the meeting was that the proceedings would be harmonious, and would accomplish all that was called for.

DIED IN ITS INFANCY.

The Window Glass Trust Goes to Pieces. Another Combine Formed.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 9.—The American Window Glass company, of Chicago, which was chartered in Illinois some months ago with a capital stock of $400,000, and was designed to act as a cover for a huge window glass trust, now exists in name only. It leaked out yesterday that at the meeting of the executive committee of the concern, held in this city last Tuesday, action was taken which practically dissolves the company. At the committee meeting it was decided to notify all the subscribers that their subscriptions to the stock would not be considered binding if they desired to withdraw. A well posted member said that the trouble was caused by the nonpayment of subscriptions.

It was learned on good authority yesterday that nineteen of the leading glass tableware manufacturers of Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia have formed a combine, the object being to avoid waste of money during dull seasons.

CAROLINE ISLANDERS REVOLT.

Three Hundred Foreigners Killed and More Massacres Expected.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—The recently appointed American consul to the Caroline islands, Mr. Herbert L. Rand, of Carthage, Ills., is here on his way to the scene of his duties. He has just received letters from his brother, who has been a missionary on the islands for eighteen years, giving an account of outrages committed by natives.

In their revolt against the Spaniards the natives have killed 300 foreigners, including 190 Spanish soldiers. They have looted and burned the houses of all the missionaries at Ponopi. Rev. Mr. Rand lost his library, worth $1,000, and all his personal and household effects.

The missionaries have been transferred to a neighboring island for safety, but the natives of the whole group are excited and more massacres are feared.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 9.—The board of pardons has recommended that the death sentence of Sidney Ware, of this county, be commuted to imprisonment for life.

The Jockey Club Found Guilty.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 9.—The jury in the trial of the indictment against the New Jersey Jockey club for permitting bookmaking on its grounds returned a verdict of guilty. The case will be appealed. The state moved the trial of the second indictment against the club, and a jury was promptly procured, and the prosecution began the taking of testimony. Matthew Corbett, a bookmaker, appeared and pleaded guilty to two indictments against him. He was fined $1,000 and costs, which he promptly paid.

Carnegie Is in It.

ISHPEMING, Mich., Jan. 9.—The big Chapin iron mine, at Iron Mountain, has been sold. The new owners are Andrew Carnegie, of Pittsburg; M. A. Hanna & Co., of Cleveland, and J. A. Van Dyke, of Milwaukee. The mine was sold eighteen months ago for $2,000,000, and produced 750,000 tons of ore in 1890. The terms of sale are private, but the figures are supposed to exceed $3,000,000.

Organized a Grand Lodge.

BUFFALO, Jan. 9.—The convention of the Excelsior Marine Benevolent association completed the revision of its constitution. A grand lodge was organized and the following officers elected and installed: Grand president, Alexander Clark, Buffalo; grand treasurer, Lyman Hunt, Buffalo; grand financial secretary, W. A. Collier, Cleveland. The grand lodge will meet yearly in January.

A Beautiful Villa Burned.

LINN, Mass., Jan. 8.—The beautiful villa of Nathaniel Brewer, of Boston, on King's beach, near the Swampscott line, one of the finest summer residences on the north shore, was completely destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. The loss is placed at about $20,000 and is covered by insurance. It is not known how the fire originated.

Speaker Sheehan's Private Secretary.

BUFFALO, Jan. 8.—George T. Smith, of the reportorial staff of The Courier, has received the appointment of private secretary to Speaker Sheehan.

Shot His Wife in the Back.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 8.—Robert DeRose, aged 27 years, shot and killed his wife Elizabeth, aged 22, at a lodging house in Ellis street. Mrs. DeRose was not living with her husband. When DeRose called at the lodging house he went directly to her room, and seizing a pistol which lay on a table shot his wife in the back. She died within an hour. DeRose is in jail. Jealousy was the cause.

What Are We Coming To?

Well may the question be asked, What are we coming to? when an institution like the Young Men's Christian Association is allowed to go down compelled to close its doors because the young men of Bellefonte don't patronize it and the business men, the fathers of the young men, refuse to contribute to its support. Fifteen years ago when you, as a citizen of Bellefonte, pledged your future support to this worthy organization, you did not contemplate withdrawing it now. What then has wrought the change? Have you retrograded from your former Christian standpoint? Don't you have the old love for the young men—your own boys, perhaps, that you used to have? Is not the propagation of the Christian religion and the saving of souls from a possible perdition, a work in which you now feel any interest? In plain words, are you going to allow the young men of this community—your neighbor's by and your own boy—to go to the devil simply for the sake of a few dollars that you are annually asked to contribute toward the support and keeping open continuously of the only moral, social, and religious institution in Bellefonte as a medium between the bar room, the billiard hall, the gaming table and the church?

Think of all this, and think of it seriously. Was your boy one of the boys that was a constant visitor at these rooms? Was it there he went to pass his spare time and to select his reading matter from the Y. M. C. A. library? If not your boy probably some other boy in whom you feel a great interest. Where will that boy go now? He must have someplace to go to. He will frequent some place where he can meet his companions. Have you taken the trouble to think where that place will be? Though not so bad as most of places, yet Bellefonte is full of alluring resorts. Places that seem very harmless to the young and inexperienced, but which will prove the very first step down to perdition. Do you want the young men to become frequenters of these places?

With one voice you all answer no to the above. Then, as one man, all should contribute to the support of the Young Men's Christian Association. Five hundred or more, dollars are needed to pay off the present indebtedness. Let the business men and the young men, the fathers and mothers and all who can pay something toward the liquidation of this debt and then, when paid, let them see to it that the Y. M. C. A. is made a permanent institution. If there was only some rich man in Bellefonte who would donate ten thousand dollars for its support, what a blessing to the community and a credit to the man, but, unfortunately, none have yet been found in this town who are so generous.

On His Way Home.

A day or two ago at the upper Philadelphia and Erie depot a man with but one leg and walking on crutches was helped off Niagara express. Shortly afterward he began talking to Depot Master Hyman, to whom he related his unfortunate experience in which he had lost his right leg. He said it was at a passenger station in Philipsburg, New Jersey, about two months ago that he was standing near the track waiting for a train to pass, and after the last car had whizzed past he stepped across the rails onto another track, when just at that moment he was struck by a switch engine and thrown beneath the wheels. His leg was crushed to a jelly, and after being taken to the hospital the attendants there told him he would die. 'But,' said the stranger, 'I fooled them all and am yet a pretty good man. I am now on my way home to Beech Creek, above Lock Haven, which place I left three months ago.' The leg had been amputated at the hip. Another strange fact in relation to the accident was that the man's second toe of the left foot was cut completely off without injuring any other part of the foot. He said he had received excellent treatment in the hospital in Philipsburg.—Williamsport Republican.

Reduced Rates to the Inauguration.

For the benefit of the people living on the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad System within the State and desiring to witness the interesting inaugural ceremonies incident to Governor-elect Pattison's taking up the reins of office on Tuesday, January 20, 1891, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to Harrisburg, on January 19 and 20, good to return until January 21, inclusive, at a rate of two cents per mile. Special arrangements will be made with organized bodies of fifty or more traveling together, whereby tickets will be sold at a rate of a single fare for the round trip.

INSTALLATION AND CAMP FIRE.

Post 261, of Milesburg, Swears in its New Officers Monday Evening.

On Monday evening a large crowd assembled in Boggs' Hall, Milesburg, to witness the public installation of the newly elected officers of Dr. George L. Potter Post, No. 261, G. A. R., and the ceremony and exercises arranged for the occasion. With due pomp and ceremony the following officers were installed, who will serve during 1891:

Commander—J Miles Green.
S V C—Joseph Fulmer.
J V C—Henry McMullen.
Quartermaster—W H Musser.
Chaplain—Thomas Wilson.
O of G—J A Murray.
O of D—W H Shultz.
Trustee—James Bradley.
Representatives to Grand Encampment—W H Musser and A S Smith.
Alternates—A C Moore and Wm H Musser.

After the installation of the above named officers the Milesburg band, which was in attendance, rendered a lively air, at the conclusion of which the presiding officer introduced the orator of the evening, W. I. Swoope, Esq., of Bellefonte. Mr. Swoope immediately launched forth in one of his elegant, eloquent and entertaining speeches for which he is so noted, holding the attention of the audience for some twenty minutes, during which time he was frequently interrupted by applause and vociferously cheered.

Then came the rendering of a lengthy and well prepared program of literary exercises by Milesburg's fair maidens, interspersed with music by the band, after which the meeting was favored with a short and humorous speech by Clement Dale, Esq., of this place. R A. Cassidy, of Canton, Ohio, made some eloquent remarks, and so did Dr. Theo. S. Christ, of Lemont. Gen. Gregg, of Washington, spoke a few words of cheer and good fellowship, and several others, from neighboring posts, made entertaining remarks. The evening's entertainment was closed by the appearance of two Carolina minstrels, who entertained the audience with a clever little sketch, after which the meeting adjourned.

A Remarkable Cow.

The cow Erotissima, owned by Mr. Appleton, of Massachusettes, and who made a product of 945½ pounds of marketable butter in 365 consecutive days between two calves, is undoubtedly a phenomenal cow. Few such cows can be procured or made. They are like comets—erratic, appear unexpectedly and disappear, and are subject to no precisely known laws. But while an ordinary dairyman cannot expect such animals to appear in his herd, yet there is a useful lesson conveyed by their existence. This shows that cultivation good breeding, and skillful feeding operate to the improvement of all our domestic animals. There was a time when the Jersey race, to which this cow belongs, were cows of much more moderate productiveness. The 200 or more of these cows which have made records of two pounds of butter per day or over are all the product of the most careful breeding and feeding. The natural proclivity to collect all the fats of their food and concentrate them in the milk is one that has been greatly enlarged by cultivation during many years, and the very same process will as certainly operate in the same direction with the majority, if not all, of the common dairy stock. Dairymen should, therefore, be encouraged by these extraordinary exhibitions of successful culture to do the best they can with the cows they have in the sure and certain hope of increasing their value in course of time.

Beck—Whippo.

On January 8th, 1891, by Rev. J. A. Wood, Jr., at Trinity M. E. parsonage, Lock Haven, Pa., Elmer E. Beck, of Loveville, Pa., to Miss Alice M. Whippo, of Port Matilda.

The above notice appeared in the Lock Haven Democrat of Friday. Thus loves young dream was realized and the consummation of their brightest hopes satisfied after a former disappointment occasioned by the illness of the groom. The wedding had been set to occur on Christmas day but owing to Mr. Beck taking suddenly ill the day previous, the ceremony was, of necessity, postponed. The bride and groom are both well and favorably known in that part of Centre county in which they reside and both have hosts of friends who wish them naught but a life roseate with the richest blessings. The writer has the pleasure of being personally acquainted with both bride and groom and begs to extend congratulations and heartiest good wishes.

Death of Mrs. Moyer.

On Sunday morning, December 28th, 1890, Mrs. Catharine Moyer, wife of John Moyer, of Potter township, passed peacefully to rest, aged 57 years, nine months and twelve days. As a neighbor she was kind and obliging; as a wife and mother she was gentle and affectionate; as a Christian she was quiet and consistent. On New Year's day her body was laid in the grave, Rev. Eisenberg, her pastor, officiating. A large concourse of friends attested the esteem in which she was held in the community, and thus paid a last tribute to her memory.—Reporter.

Drank Calvin's Health.

At Yorktown, Va., on the occasion of the centennial celebration of the surrender of Cornwallis, the orator of the day was holding forth at overpowering length and a good many people slipped out and sought other pastimes. An interesting group in a big marquee was composed of Governor Jarvis, of North Carolina, and Governor Hoyt, of Pennsylvania, with their respective staffs, 'renewing the assurances,' etc., after the traditional manner of the governors of the two Carolinas. The Pennsylvanians had called to pay their respects, and North Carolina hospitality took the form of liberal rations of old Bourbon. The Governors and Senator Vance, in plain clothes, and a score of staff officers, in plain clothes, stood with glasses charged ready to drink, when Governor Vance said something about his being a died-in-the-wool Presbyterian.

'Hold,' said Governor Hoyt; 'do you mean to say that you are a Presbyterian?'

'Just that, Governor; if you don't believe me, try me.'

'So I will,' replied Hoyt, 'and that before we go any further. How many questions are there in the Shorter Catechism?'

'One hundred and seven,' was the prompt answer.

'Right. And what is the chief end of man?'

'Man's chief end is to glorify God and to enjoy him forever.'

'Good enough,' said Hoyt, 'I give you a certificate of good standing.'

The bystanders, whose lips had not yet been moistened, were about to have the deferred drink, when Vance said:

'Hold, a minute, gentlemen. Since Hoyt has catechised me, it is my turn to have a shot at him. How do I know that he is qualified to give a certificate?'

'Go ahead Senator,' rejoined Hoyt, evidently ready for the test. The bystanders sighed, and again held their glasses in abeyance.

'Tell me, Hoyt, what is sin?'

'Sin is any want of conformity unto, or transgression of, the law of God.'

'Good boy,' said Vance, 'you will do,' and then, turning to the impatient crowd, 'well, gentlemen, let us drink to the memory of John Calvin.'

The glasses were drained. I doubt whether the Shorter Catechism was ever given such an outing, and whether the prosecutor of old Servetus ever had his immortality toasted under more peculiar circumstances.

Personal Pencilings.

George R. Meek was in Tyrone on Wednesday.

Mr. Isaac Beck, of Loveville, was in Bellefonte on Tuesday.

Mr. John Harris, Jr., has entered the service of the Blair County Bank, in Tyrone.

John Blanchard, Esq., transacted business in Tyrone on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James McKee spent Sunday in Tyrone.

Miss Stella Armor has gone to Philadelphia to spend a week or so with friends in that place.

Mr. John Decker, of Hublersburg, was a visitor in Bellefonte on Friday. Mr. Decker says there is too much snow down his way for good sleighing.

Mrs. Kate Baney, who makes her home with Mr. H. H. Benner, on East High street, is at present in Philadelphia under medical treatment for some disease from which she has been suffering for the past two years. She has her son James with her who is visiting his aunts, sisters of his mother, residing in that city. Jimmie is a bright little boy and we hope he will enjoy his first visit to the city.

Killed in the Coal Mines.

[Philipsburg Journal.]

A fatal accident took place in a mine near Houtzdale, on Friday night. Calvin Rhue and Thomas Shipley, were working together in the Whitehead shaft, Ocean No. 2. The two men had started to draw back a pillar; they had taken out four car loads, when most unexpectedly the roof fell in and completely buried the poor fellows, crushing them in a dreadful manner.

Calvin Rhue was 37 years of age, and leaves a wife and two children. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias, Odd fellows and Patriotic Order of the Sons of America. He was buried yesterday afternoon, and a large number of mourning relatives and friends together with an immense representation of the orders with which he was identified, also miners from neighboring towns.

Thomas Shipley was a single man and aged about 24 years. Both men were much respected and the awfully sudden death has caused quite a gloom over the men in that neighborhood.

W. G. Kisland, who was knocked down and run over by an engine in Snow Shoe, a year ago 15th of last December, who had both legs and arm broken, and so otherwise mashed and cut up that it was thought he must be dead when being extricated from his perilous position, is a brother-in-law of Calvin Rhue, and was present at the funeral. Except that he walks as though weak in his legs, there is no other sign of his dreadful accident a year ago.

Snow Shoe Pencilings.

Miss Gertie Lucas, of Philipsburg, who was until recently one of Snow Shoe's fair daughters, visited Miss Della and Blanche Budinger last week. She was warmly welcomed by her many friends.

Miss Blanche, the attractive daughter of James Zimmerman, our worthy fellow-townsman, has returned from Altoona, where she has been visiting Miss Maud Glenn.

Mr. E. Thomas and wife, of Philadelphia, are the guests of Squire R. J. Hayns, their uncle.

Miss Annie Marks has returned from a very pleasant holiday trip.

Misses Blanche and Della Budinger, the talented daughters of Mr. T. B. Budinger, returned to Birmingham, where they are attending school, on Wednesday's three P. M. train. The excellent character of their instructions speak for themselves.

We are glad to state that Willie Marks, who has for the past six weeks been a typhoid fever patient, is recovering after his long seige.

Mr. George Rote, of Clarence, spent Sunday at the home of his parents in Salona.

Dr. White, of Philipsburg, spent Friday at the Mountain House.

W. F. Holt, also of Philipsburg, was registered at the Mountain House last Tuesday.

Chas. T. Noll, the obliging telephone man, spent Saturday in our small city of the "Shoe."

Rev. W. O. Wright was in Snow Shoe on Sunday. He was entertained by Mr. Reese.

Miss Laura Sowers, of State College, returned from a two week's visit to the home of her parents.

The exercises of the Literary Society were quite interesting. The next meeting will be on Friday evening, January 30th.

Mr. D. G. Stewart, of Pine Glenn, spent Sunday in Snow Shoe.

Miss Annie Etters one of the worthy girls of Snow Shoe, accompanied by her brother-in-law, Mr. Claud Thompson, drove to Bellefonte on Sunday.

Miss Gertrude Smith, eldest daughter of Squire Smith of this place, has returned to Altoona. Miss Gertie is very much missed here among the young folks as she was always quite a favorite.

Miss Stella Nolan, the amiable and accomplished daughter of Mrs. M C Nolan, accompanied by her two young school friends, Miss Effie Simons, of Atkinson, Kansas, and Miss Virginai Patton, of Bentle City, Montana, returned to Lutherville Seminary on Monday, after a very enjoyable vacation. It is a long time since the hotel entertained such general favorites as guests.

Mrs. James Marsteller, spent Saturday at Pine Glen, the guests of Mr George Boak.

Mrs. T A Boak, of Hughesville, is the guest of Mr. Cameron Boak of this place.

Miss Stella Whitaker, of Bellefonte is visiting Miss Gertie and Stella Fravil.

If You Had a Friend

About to visit some section of the country where malarial disease, either; in the form of chills and fever or billious remittent was particularly rife, what would be about the best advice you could give him? We will tell you—to carry along, or procure on arriving, that potent medicinal safeguard, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, known throughout malaria plagued regions, here and in other countries, as the surest means of disarming the miasmatic scourge, and robbing it of its fell destructive influence. Not only does it fortify the system by increasing its stamina, but overcomes irregularity of digestion, the liver and the bowels, and counteracts the unfavorable effects of over exertion, bodily and mental exposure in rough weather, or occupation too sedentary or laborious, loss of appetite and excessive nervousness. The functions of alimentation, bilious secretion and sleep have in it a most powerful and reliable auxiliary.

To Protect Our Money and Labor.

[From the Lock Haven Democrat.]

A protective tariff statute that levies an adequate tax on imported merchandise which we are capable to reproduce in quantity and quality, by actual home labor of any nation, is a national blessing. It is an encouragement to capital to invest money in labor appliances and thereby produce at home the commercial commodities and keep the proceeds of our labor circulating as a medium of money with our own people. Our adverse foreign trade of the last seven years has been a menace to our finances and our integrity, brought about by the crooked tariff laws of 1883, which departed from a commercial method of accounts and reduced taxation on imports below the protective scale. Hence the outgoing gold and American securities for the payment of temporal indulgencies of buying cheap woolens, cottons, iron and steel and farm products, etc., which deprived our own people from producing the same. Our present tariff bill, relative to the equitable valuation on imports, is not strictly a partisan revision of our economic laws. The late Hon. Daniel Manning, the lamented Randall and Congressman Hewitt did valuable work toward obtaining intelligent tariff reform, which will be maintained by force of conditions, viz: National retrenchments in purchasing foreign goods whereby to retain sufficient gold to maintain a flexible currency of gold and silver. This can only be obtained by taxation on imports and thereby produce more American goods.

Our catering to the English and German rule of a single standard of money—gold—is un-American. The base of economies and our institutions is vastly different. This new world inherits the duty of clothing and feeding its people with the least labor and the greatest remuneration, when having suitable labor appliances. To obtain them we must coin our precious metals into a unity of money—gold and silver, of one value to the farmer and banker. We can lead in the world money reformation by supplying our own markets with the necessaries of life, and Central Pennsylvania can and will do her part.

Fourteen years ago a day wage workman desired to aid the building of a sheet iron rolling mill here, to use Bellefonte blooms and pig iron, in anticipation of the near future to obtain an equitable tax on imported tin plate and dinner bucket. Twelve citizens subscribed $10,500 towards a cash gift of $20,000 to any company or persons building a rolling mill costing $60,000, in this city, and if not accepted in one year after $20,000 was subscribed, the agreement would be void. The incompletion was no fault of the projector, and now at this opportune time if a Castanea location would be acceptable to the gentlemen subscribers, the writer would contribute one hundred dollars toward completing the mill, anticipating a subscription to stock for larger plant.

$1,000 Thrown Away.

In 1963 a Cancer developed on my lower lip. I went under treatment at once, and from time to time since that have had medical aid in New Orleans, Boston and New York, with no benefit at all. It has progressed right along, and now involves my jaw and cheek. One thousand dollars would not cover the loss sustained through the medical and surgical aid I have received. I have certainly tried everything and was benefitted by nothing until I took S. S. S. It has done me more good than all else put together, and I believe I will soon be sound and well. Swift's Specific is certainly a great boon to mankind. D. D. WARE, P. O. Box 1022, Keene, N. H.

Disgusted With a Doctor.

I contracted a severe case of Blood Poison in 1883, and my physicians put me under a mercurial treatment of three months without doing me any good, in fact I was gradually growing worse. I then consulted another physician, who tried me with potash and sarsaparilla, but with no better result. I then became disgusted with doctors and their remedies, and commenced taking Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) After having taken 7 bottles I was entirely cured, and I have not had any symptoms of a return since. I have recommended S. S. S. to others, who have used it with the same good results. J. C. Don't Be in a Rush.

The rent paying people are receiving their annual notice to prepare to quit their present homes on the first of April or sign a contract to retain possession for another year. The house hunting campaign will begin soon, and, as usual, will be kept up until the annual moving day arrives. Rent payers can just now do more in the direction of reducing their burdens than at any other time of the year. Don't rush about as though the supply of houses would hardly meet half the demand. It excites the house owners and causes either a raise in rent or a continuance of the present high rate. Just permit the house owners to look around a little for tenants, and the rents will take a much needed tumble. They are far too high at present.

The Philadelphia Press

has won the foremost place among Pennsylvania newspapers by the liberality, enterprise and fairness with which it conducts its business, reports great events, and the completeness with which it records, day by day, the life of the city, State and country.

Its field is world-wide, and its staff, its special correspondents, so many and well organized, its sources of news so numerous, that it appeals to a wider constituency than any other newspaper ever published in the State of Pennsylvania.

"THE PRESS," said one of the managers of the Western Union Telegraph Co., "now receives more telegraphic news than all the other Philadelphia papers combined." This statement is authorative and conclusive, and The Press presents, as daily witnesses to its truth, its twelve to twenty-four bright and interesting pages.

But it is not only by its news enterprise—by the zeal, energy and integrity of its reporters and correspondents that The Press won and held the confidence of its many thousands of readers, representing every age and every condition of life, every trade and every profession, every faith and every political opinion. It is the excellence and varied interest of The Press as a general family journal, appealing to women as well as to men, which have made for it so many friends at home, and extended its reputation all over the country. It prints every important event of the world's progress.

The printing of news is always its first business, but its columns are also enriched by contributions from the most gifted special writers, the most famous novelists, and some of the most eminent public men of the time. The literary engagements already made for 1891 probably surpass in number and variety, and nearly equal in cost, any contemporary magazine, for the field and resources of such a newspaper as The Press make it not only a daily historian, but a daily forum and a daily tribune.

Its steadily growing profits and its steadfast constituency not only demand, but insure progress. The greatest authors, as well as the brightest news correspondents, find the r largest profits derived from any Pennsylvania newspaper, as well as their best Pennsylvania audience, in Daily, Sunday and Weekly Press.

In politics The Press is Republican, but it knows no other master than the people whose rights, aspirations and needs it always defends. It has no enemies to punish, no individual political ambitions to foster or promote, and is subservient to no politician or clique. Faithful to the great body of readers and voters whom it truly represents, it promotes its own interest and influence by upholding theirs. Its editorial opinions are fearless and frank—never captious. Its news is always impartial. In its pages the workingmen find as ready audience as the capitalist. To all commercial and industrial progress, to the best thought and best action in every sphere of human enterprise, it accords a generous and enlightened hospitality. In the columns of The Philadelphia Press justice finds "all seasons summer."

HARPER'S WEEKLY.

ILLUSTRATED.

Harper's Weekly has never failed to justify its title as a "Journal of Civilization," and it has done so with a constant regard to enlarged possibilities of usefulness and a higher standard of artistic and literary excellence. It leaves untouched no important phase of the world's progress, and presents a record equally trustworthy and interesting, of the notable events, persons and achievements of our time.

Special supplements will be continued in 1891. They will be literary, scientific, artistic, historical, critical, topographical or descriptive, as occasion may demand, and will continue to deserve the hearty commendation which has been bestowed on past issues by the press and the public. As a family journal Harper's Weekly will, as heretofore, be edited with a strict regard for the qualities that make it a safe and welcome visitor to every home.

Harper's Young People.

An Illustrated Weekly.

The Twelfth Volume of Harper's Young People begins on November 4, 1890. This best and most comprehensive weekly in the world for young readers presents a rich and attractive programme. In fiction there will be "Campmates; A Story of the Plains," by Kirk Munroe; "Men of Iron," a romance, by Howard Pyle, with illustrations by the author; "Flying Hill Farm," by Sophie Swett; "The Moon Prince," by R. K. Munkittrick; and "Yellowtop," by Annie Brunson King. In addition to these five serials, there will be stories in two or three parts by Thomas Nelson Page, Hjalmar Hjorth Boyesen, Edwin Lassetter Bynner, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Mary E. Wilkins, Nora Perry and others. Short stories, and articles on science, history, travel, adventure, games and sports, with hundreds of illustrations of the highest character, will render Harper's Young People for 1891 unrivalled as a miscellany of the best reading for boys and girls.

"The best weekly publication for young people in existence. It is edited with scrupulous care and attention, and instruction and entertainment are mingled in its pages in just the right proportions to captivate the minds of the young, and at the same time to develop their thinking power."

Her Gift of Second Sight.

Some forty years ago in Northeastern Ohio, before the time of the railroads and hotels, says a writer in the St. Louis Globe Democrat, a woman and her husband came through that section, traveling to the west. They stopped at my father's farm and remained over night and in the course of the evening's conversation it came out that the wife, a fresh faced country woman, possessed the gift called by the Scotch second sight, and which is now generally called clairvoyance.

She did not go into a trance to see things. 'I just put my hands before my eyes and look through my head,' said she. 'I cannot explain it any other way. My eyes are shut, but they seem to see right through my forehead. I see them not as I see with my eyes open, but as if I looked through a narrow opening and could only see one object at a time, but that very plainly.'

Her gift was destined to be of profit to my father's family, for before the evening was over my mother begged her to give us a test.

'Look and try to see something that concerns us,' she said.

The woman covered her eyes, bent her head forward, and finally said: 'I see an old gentleman, very old and very feeble, dressed in blue broadcloth with brass buttons and wearing a ruffled shirt. On his arm is an old lady in a yellow chints gown with brown figures in it. Something ails her throat it is muffled up.

And so she continued, giving an accurate description of my grandparents, one of whom had died three years before and the other within a few months, and describing the dress they most commonly wore down to the minutest details, which could not have been given her by the neighbors, for they had even been forgotten by the family, and were only remembered when she mentioned them.

'Can you find things that are lost?' asked my mother. Maybe you can tell us who stole Simon's $100?'

The woman drew a long, quiet breath, and still, with covered eyes, said: 'It was not stolen, I think.'

'I'm sure it was,' said father; 'I know right where I put it, and when I looked for it it was gone.'

The woman continued, however saying:

'You leave this house by a south door. You go down a path more than fifty steps, then you come to the barn. No you do not stop there. Oh, here it is you stop. I think it is a chicken house. Here is a nest, and in the straw lies the money.'

Father had been lighting his lantern as she spoke, and had it ready as she finished, and hurried down to the hen house—we children racing after him. Sure enough, there in a deserted nest, among broken and addled eggs, lay the roll of bills.

'I had it in my pocket when I was trying to set that pesky yellow hen,' said father, 'and she struggled and fought so that I must have dropped it out in the melee.'

When we got back to the house the woman was chatting pleasantly with mother. She would take nothing for her services, saying that the gift was from God, and if she were paid for making use of it, it would leave her. However, we prevailed on her to spend a week with us, and many old persons now living who then lived in that section still remember her and some of the wonderful tests she gave in finding lost articles and telling the whereabouts of those absent.

—Mr. Green, the Druggist, is always getting up something new. He has now in one of his show windows a small still in operation showing the process of distillation, also a percolation showing how the active principles are extracted from drugs. It is quite interesting judging from the crowds who stand observing it. His other window is filled with toilet soap, tooth brushes and samples of his Rose Dentifrice and Saponacous tooth powder, and makes a fine appearance.

You are aware of course that catarrh will become chronic unless checked at once by Old Saul's Catarrh Cure. Only 25 cents.

"It a numerous household is the safety of the Republic," it might as well be proclaimed at once, that the remedy upon which such households should be reared is Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup.

MANY years practice have given C. A. Snow & Co., Solicitors of Patents, at Washington, D. C., unsurpassed success in obtaining patents for all classes of inventions. They make a specialty of rejected cases, and have secured the allowance of many patents that had been previously rejected. Their advertisement in another column will be of interest to inventors, patentees, manufacturers and all those who have anything to do with patents.

—W C Heinle, W F Reber and J L Spangler were named among guests that sat around the banquetting table on Thursday evening in Philadelphia Charles R. Kurtz, of the Centre Democrat was in Philadelphia, but his name was not on the list. Guess he couldn't pass the brass buttons at the door.

"Listed," as the brokers say, at "100 doses one dollar," Hood's Sarsaparilla is always a fair equivalent for the price.

HARPER'S BAZAR.

ILLUSTRATED.

Harper's Bazar is a journal for the home. Giving the latest information with regard to the Fashions. Its numerous illustrations, fashion plates and pattern sheet supplements are indispensable alike to the home dress maker and the professional modiste. No expense is spared in making its artistic attractiveness of the highest order. Its clever short stories, parlor plays and thoughtful essays satisfy all tastes, and its last page is famous as a budget of wit and humor. In its weekly issues everything is included which is of interest to women. During 1891 Agnes B. Ormsbee will write a series of articles on "The House Comfortable," Juliet Corson will treat of "Sanitary Living," and an interesting succession of papers on "Women in Art and History," superbly illustrated, will be furnished by Theodore Child. The serial stories will be by Walter Besant and Thomas Hardy.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE

For the coming year will be noteworthy for a number of special features which the Publishers believe are of very unusual interest, and among them may be mentioned:—

contributes to the December number the first of a series of four Articles upon Japan, its people, its ways, and its thoughts. Mr. Robert Blum, who was commissioned to go to Japan for Scribner's Magazine, has prepared a very remarkable series of drawings to illustrate Sir Edwin's papers. Articles upon the recent Japanese Festival will follow, illustrated by Mr Blum.

HENRY M. STANLEY

has prepared for the January number an important article upon "The Pigmies of the Great African Forest." Another contribution in this field will be Mr. J. Scott Keltie's account of the recent African Exhibition held in London. Both papers will be amply illustrated.

THE WRECKER,

a Serial Novel by Robert Louis Stevenson and Lloyd Osborne will run through a large part of the year. Illustrated by Hole. A two-part story by Frank R. Stockton will also appear.

PROF. JAMES BRYCE, M. P.,

author of "The American Commonwealth," will write a series of Four Articles upon India embodying the results of his recent journey and studies on this land of never-dying interest.

OCEAN STEAMSHIPS

will be the subject of an important series somewhat upon the lines of the successful Railroad articles. "Passenger Travel," "The Life of Officers and Men," "Speed and Safety Devices," and "Management," are some of the subjects touched upon and illustrated.

GREAT STREETS OF THE WORLD

is the title of a novel collection of articles on which the author and artist will collaborate to give the characteristics of famous thoroughfares. The first, on Broadway, will be written by Richard Harding Davis and illustrated by Arthur B. Frost. Others will follow on Piccadilly, London; Boulevard, Paris; The Corso, Rome.

The price of Scribner's Magazine admits of adding a subscription to one's other reading at very small cost. Orders should be sent at once. $3.00 a year. 25 cents a number.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.
ILLUSTRATED.

The important series of papers on South America, by Theodore Child, will be continued in Harper's Magazine during the greater part of the year 1891. The articles on Southern California, by Charles Dudley Warner, will also be continued. Among other noteworthy attractions will be a novel by Charles Egbert Craddock; a collection of original drawings by W. M. Thackeray, now published for the first time; a novel written and illustrated by George du Maurier; a novelette by William Dean Howells, and a series of papers on London by Walter Besant.

In the number and variety of illustrated papers and other articles on subjects of timely interest, as well as in the unrivalled character of its short stories, poems, etc., Harper's Magazine will continue to maintain that standard of excellence for which it has been so long distinguished.

AGENT BOYER TO BLAME

He Is Partly Responsible for the Bloodshed at Pine Ridge.

OKLAHOMA IN TREMBLING.

Grave Apprehension Exists, and Bloodshed Is Feared as Soon as the Disarming of the Hostiles Is Begun. Kingfisher in a Furore.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 10.—A dispatch to The Tribune from Sioux City, Ia., says:

Maj. W. W. Anderson, of Chamberlain, S. D., has just come in from the Bad Lands, where he saw many of the hostile Indians. He has their confidence and is widely known among them, as he was Indian agent at Crow creek and Lower Brule agencies up to a year ago. He says the violation of the Sioux treaty of 1876 is the real cause of the trouble. He knows personally that in many cases the Indians did lack food, and did not receive the rations to which they were entitled.

The ghost dance is a hoax, but has been used by some of the leaders to influence the young men. Maj. Anderson puts some of the blame for the trouble on Agent Boyer, who, instead of firmly quelling it, ran away to Bushville and called for troops, and then when he went back to the agency with troops was harsh and irritating toward the Indians.

Oklahoma Excited.

GUTHRIE, I. T., Jan. 10.—Much excitement prevails here regarding the present Indian outlook. Grave apprehension is felt, and trouble is expected as soon as the disarming of the Indians is begun. Reports regarding the seriousness of the situation have been withheld by correspondents, but it is no longer a secret that trouble is imminent. The settlers along the reservation borders are of course more alarmed, and their position is most critical.

Kingfisher at present is in a furore, and yesterday George H. Laing, of that place, came to this city and at once sought the office of United States Marshal Grimes. He says a militia company had been hurriedly organized there, which numbered 65 men. A company of minute men had also been formed of 112 members, who may, on a moment's notice, be called out in case of an outbreak. Sixty-five guns were reported at the organization meeting of the men, and the remainder are to be supplied at once.

The Alarm Is Genuine.

"The Indian alarm in this territory is genuine, and within a week's time at the longest Kingfisher and other border towns will be under constant picket guard," said Laing to Marshal Grimes. Laing was the secretary of the Minute Men's organization meeting, and is a citizen of repute of Kingfisher. He said that Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians came into Kingfisher on Thursday and purchased every cartridge that could be had, one Indian buying fifteen boxes.

The aspect is certainly serious, and Judge Seay, of the supreme bench, said yesterday that the inland towns should at once organize in companies to aid, if necessary, the settlers along the borders.

They Went to Dance.

WELLS, Nev., Jan. 10.—About 200 Snake and Shoshone Indians left this vicinity on Wednesday and Thursday to attend a ghost dance in Star valley, at the head of Humboldt river. Chief Soldier Charlie claims that there is no danger of an outbreak unless the government attempts to stop the dance and force the Indians to remain on the reservation. It is unusual to hold dances at this time of the year.

The Situation in Idaho.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, Jan. 10.—As a result of a conference between Governor Willey and Maj. Noyes, commander of the Boise barracks, a cavalry company and an infantry company here are held in readiness to move on a moment's notice. Adjt. Gen. Curtis, of the Idaho national guard, has been sent to Pocatello station to confer with the citizens. The action of the governor will depend upon the report of Adjt. Gen. Curtis.

After the Young Hotheads.

PENDLETON, Ore., Jan. 10.—Two strange Indians arrived here yesterday morning on a train from Montana. It is thought they are runners for disaffected tribes sent here to lead away the young hotheaded bucks on the Umatilla reservation.

Supplies for Pocatello.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 10.—Acting Governor Sells yesterday secured from the commander at Fort Douglas 200 rifles and 5,000 rounds of ammunition to be sent up the railroad for the protection of its employes at Pocatello.

Tendered Their Services.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 10.—Col. W. F. Hughes, of the Third Kansas national guards, yesterday tendered the services of himself and regiment to the government to help exterminate the Indians in South Dakota.

Commander-in-Chief Veasey's Request.

RUTLAND, Vt., Jan. 10.—Commander-in-Chief Veasey, in an order just issued, announces the death of Judge Charles Deavens, past commander-in-chief. He asks that as many national and department officers as possible attend the funeral at Boston on Saturday. The customary badge of mourning is to be worn.

The William A. Wallace Failure.

A special from Clearfield says: Wm. A. Wallace's assignees have failed to furnish the bond required, in the sum of $10,000,000, and as a result a settlement with the creditors through the assignees has practically been abandoned. Executions have been issued upon judgment of the record. The personal property of the ex-Senator, including his valuable libraries of miscellaneous books and law books have been sold. All his real estate has been levied upon and will be sold on January 30. This turn of affairs was unexpected by creditors here, who supposed that by giving him time Mr. Wallace could pay his debts in full and have something to spare. As it is the property will be sacrificed and the judgment creditors will get but a small percentage of their claims, while those who are unsecured will fare much worse.

Special Announcement.

We have made arrangements with Dr. J. B. Kendell Co;, publishers of a Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," which will enable all our subscribers to obtain a copy of that valuable work free by sending their address (enclosing a two cent stamp for mailing same) to Dr. J. B. Kendall Co., Enosburgh Falls, Vt. This book is now recognized as standard authority upon all diseases of the horse, as its phenomenal sale attests, over four million copies having been sold in the past ten years, a sale never before reached by any publication in the same period of time. We feel confident that our patrons will appreciate the work, and be glad to avail themselves of this opportunity of obtaining a valuable book.

It is necessary that you mention this paper in sending for the 'Treatise.' This offer will remain open for only a short time.

About Free Delivery.

The House committee on post offices and post roads yesterday ordered a favorable report on the Senate bill to extend the free delivery service to cities and towns where the postoffice gross receipts are $5,000 per annum and upward. Should this bill become a law the following places in Pennsylvania will be benefitted:

Ashland, Bedford, Bloomsburg, Braddock, Bristol, Brookville, Carbondale Clarion, Clearfield, Coatsville, Columbia, Connellsville, Doylestown, DuBois, Gettysburg, Greenville, Hanover, Hollidaysburg, Honesdale, Indiana, Kane, Kittaning, Latrobe, Leechburg, Lewistown, Mahonoy City, Mauch Chunk, Mechanicsburg, Mercer, Middletown, Milton, New Brighton, Philipsburg, Phoenixville, Plymouth, Ridgway, Shenandoah, Steelton, Stroudsburg, Sunbury, Susquehanna, Tyrone, Uniontown, Waynesboro, Wellsboro, and Wheat Grove.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease 'Comsumption," is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung Maladies. He hopes all sufferers will try his Remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing and may prove a blessing, will please address REV. EDWARD A. WILTON, Williamsburg, Kings County, New York.

—This is spendid winter weather. It could not be finer, for those who are warmly clad, who have plenty to eat and comfortable homes; but how about the hundreds of poor who are not thus fortunately circumstanced? They do not enjoy such weather because they are not prepared for its severeties. Has not this thought occurred to you, good reader, and has it prompted you to do what in your power lies for the alleviation of the suffering, the existence of which cannot be denied!

The heritage of which every human being is almost as certain as he is of air, sunlight and breath, is Scrofula Humor. Poor diet and insufficient food, ill ventilation, filth, and dampness, all assist the slumbering germs of Scrofula to overpower the vitality of the body and run riot in the system. The blood in its process of renewing the waste cannot expel any inherited taint of weakness or impurity. It can only be removed by the action of some purifying medicinal agency, which assisted by nutritious food, well digested and assimilated into blood, gradually insures the possession of sound health. Such a renovating remedy has Brown's Sarsaparilla proved itself to be.

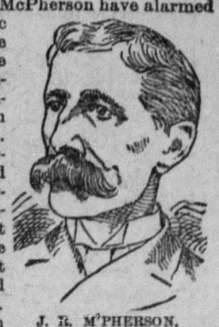
SENATOR M'PHERSON'S ILLNESS.

It Has Considerably Agitated the Democrats of New Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 9.—The reports from Washington of the serious illness of Senator John R. McPherson have alarmed the Democratic politicians of the state and have called forth expressions of sympathy from men of all parties. Senator McPherson is a recognized power in New Jersey. He is unquestionably the most influential, as he is one of the most highly respected men in the state. While a stanch Democrat and absolutely the head of the Democracy here, he has always been exceedingly fair and courteous, and has kept a sharp lookout for the interests of his state in congress. He is the only senator who has twice been re-elected from New Jersey, and one of the very few men from any state who has served three consecutive terms in the United States senate.



J. R. M'PHERSON.

The senator has made his mark on the floor of the senate, and shown a wide and comprehensive grasp of all the questions under discussion. Since the days of Frelinghuysen he is the only senator from New Jersey who has taken an active and frequent part in the debates on the floor. Although, as the recent debate showed, the senator agrees with his party on the tariff question, he was always ready to ask for protection for any Jersey industry that needed it. His efforts on behalf of the potters, pearl button manufacturers and glassblowers of the state will never be forgotten. The senator has as many friends among Republicans as among Democrats.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Women Envoys to Be Sent to South and Central America.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—At a reception given last evening by the women managers of the World's fair to the army and navy officers detailed to the various South and Central American countries in the interest of the exposition, the subject of sending women envoys to those countries was discussed. Mrs. Palmer, president of the board of lady managers, said that in a conference with Secretary Blaine she had been informed that the board would be allowed three representatives.

It was agreed that as the South American countries are mostly, if not entirely, Catholic, it would be advisable to send Catholic ladies there, in order that they might be better able to work in harmony with the church institutions. Secretary Cousins announced that a letter had been received from the state department indorsing Miss Clara de Mehun and Miss Virginia Dodge as two of the three women representatives to go to South America.

Each of the ten architects selected to make plans for the World's fair buildings has accepted, and will be in Chicago on Saturday. A separate building will be planned by each one of them after the general scheme has been agreed upon. Consulting Architect Root will make any changes in the ten plans necessary to harmonize the collection.

TEXAS SWEPT BY A TORNADO.

Death and Destruction Mark the Path of the Fierce Tempest.

SHERMAN, Tex., Jan. 9.—A tornado passed about three miles east of this town about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. It was 100 yards in breadth, and demolished everything it struck. Several houses were blown down, and an infant was killed, and four adults severely, if not mortally, wounded.

John Schmidt was blown over a barbed wire fence. He seized the wire as he passed, and his hand was almost torn off. Household goods are scattered about for miles, and the loss is great. Further search may reveal many more dead bodies, but night coming on put an end to the quest of the rescuers.

Yoakum and other points report a hurricane and a high wind raged all night.

A Yoakum dispatch says: About 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon a tornado passed about two miles west of here, destroying three houses, uprooting trees and carrying away haystacks.

ASSAULTED WITH AN IRON BAR.

A Wealthy Horseman Attacked In His Wagon by a Stranger.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Jan. 9.—Charles Eisensmith, a wealthy man of this city, was brutally assaulted while driving on the outskirts of this town last evening. He was returning to his home in Jockey Hollow, and on Western avenue was stopped by a stranger wearing a slouch hat, who asked for a ride. The request was granted. The man had no sooner got into the wagon before he caught Eisensmith by the throat and struck him several times with a thick bar of iron.

Eisensmith did not at once lose consciousness, and a desperate struggle ensued, during which the men fell from the wagon into the road. A vehicle approaching scared the highwayman, and he left his victim and took to the woods. His identity is unknown. Eisensmith, who is well known throughout the state for his love of blooded horses, is at present in a critical condition.

Fearfully Gashed With a Razor.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 8.—Charles Ryker came here and sold a load of hay. On the way home a negro got into the wagon, drew a razor and demanded Ryker's money. Ryker grappled with him, and a terrible hand to hand struggle ensued for the possession of the razor. The negro severed Ryker's nose from his face and cut large gashes in his arms, breast and back. The approach of another farm wagon caused the desperado to release his hold upon Ryker and jump from the wagon. Ryker's recovery is doubtful.

Groceryman Tilford Dead.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—John M. Tilford, the founder of the large grocery firm of Park & Tilford, died Wednesday morning at his residence, 4 West Forty-ninth street. He had been ill for some time with a heart affection, and his death was due to a failure of that organ. He was 76 years of age.

A Young Woman's Horrible Death.

DANVILLE, Ills., Jan. 9.—While hastily passing the grate at the residence of her father last night the clothing of Miss Jessie Dougherty caught fire. There was no one else in the house at the time, and the young lady ran out of doors screaming for help. She was burned to a crisp below the waist, and died shortly after the accident.

I GIVE AWAY

To every reader of this paper who suffers from Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Sick Headache, Nervous Debility or Consumption, a free bottle of that most wonderful medicine, Floraplexion, which is the only absolute and permanent cure for the above named diseases. I can afford to do this because I know that nine out of every ten persons who try it will be so well satisfied with the results they will take pleasure in speaking about its marvelous curative virtues to all their friends and acquaintances. The value of this sort of advertising to me is worth many times the cost of the medicine given away, so I am well compensated for the seeming large expense.

I have over 70,000 letters on file from people who have been cured of one or more of the complaints above named. Write to-day stating your disease and receive a free bottle by return mail, or ask your druggist for it and get well. Address,

ROBERT NEILSON, General Agent

A LEGISLATIVE UPROAR.

The Joint Assembly in Nebraska Have a High Old Time.

THE ALLIANCE WORSTED.

The Supreme Court Issues a Mandamus Compelling the Speaker to Canvass the Returns, Which is a Point in Favor of Governor-elect Boyd.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 9.—The proceedings in the Nebraska legislature Wednesday afternoon were of a most extraordinary character. At 3 o'clock the senate and house assembled in joint session for the purpose of canvassing the vote on state officers as prescribed by the constitution. Trouble was precipitated at the outset by a misunderstanding as to which officer should preside over the joint convention. Lieutenant Governor Micklejohn advanced to the chair to preside, claiming his right under the constitution, the statutes, and the uniform practice of the state. Speaker Elder, of the house, refused to vacate, and the two officers occupied chairs side by side, claiming the gavel.

The speaker attempted to call the body to order, but was himself called to order by the lieutenant governor. The hall was crowded and the excitement was intense, but no demonstration was made beyond some loud talking and a number of motions to change the plan of proceeding to the canvass. These motions were declared out of order. The official returns were brought in by the secretary of state and laid before the body.

A Deadlock.

The speaker was directed by the lieutenant governor to open the package and read the returns. He began the work, but was advised by the attorney for the independent party not to do so. He then refused to go on with the work. The lieutenant governor ruled that no business could be transacted until the returns were canvassed, and this brought on a deadlock. The joint convention sat for nearly four hours, the time being taken up by oratorical fencing and labored argument from each side to prove that the other side was in the wrong. At 7 o'clock a recess was taken until Thursday morning.

The point involved is this: The independent or Alliance party is contesting the election of the Democratic governor and the remaining state officers, who are Republicans. They wish to prevent the announcement of the election of these officers, evidently preferring to seat the contestants directly. Lieutenant Governor Meikeljohn, who is a Republican, holds that it is his duty to declare the officers having a majority on the face of the returns elected, and if there is to be a contest it must be begun in the regular way after this announcement of election is made. That was the point of contention in the struggle.

An Appeal to the Courts.

Thursday morning all the doors of the representative hall were closely guarded, and none but members of the legislature, state officers and persons having business inside were admitted. All members were on hand promptly, although they found great difficulty in pushing their way through the crowds that filled the corridors and besieged the Capitol at all points. The Alliance members had taken possession of the house at 5 o'clock in the morning. They placed the speaker in the chair, and put a cordon of assistant sergeants-at-arms around him. Lieutenant Governor Meikeljohn got in through the cloak room, and was served with an order of ejectment, but he defied the officer and was taken into custody.

Both sides had a force of sergeants-at-arms within call, and any attempt on either side to proceed with the canvass would have precipitated a row. To avoid this a committee from each party was sent with a statement of the case to the supreme court, asking that body for a decision as to which officer has the constitutional right to preside. The supreme court issued a writ of mandamus compelling the speaker to canvass the returns. This is a point in favor of Governor-elect Boyd.

Fifty sergeants-at-arms have been appointed and thousands of people besiege the doors of the representative hall. Mr. Boyd's inauguration today is very doubtful. Governor Thayer has called out the militia to suppress the disturbance at the Lincoln state house.

Carrington's Terrible Death.

MORGAN CITY, La., Jan. 10.—The Lawrence homestead, situated on the outskirts of this city, was burned Thursday morning. William T. Carrington, ex-collector of this port, occupied the house and had been seen there at a late hour the previous night. In searching the ruins the remains of the unfortunate gentleman were discovered near the fireplace in the parlor. It is thought that in endeavoring to escape from the flames he was overcome by smoke. An investigation is going on to determine whether he was foully dealt with and the house fired to cover up the crime. It is the general supposition, however, that the affair was accidental. Mr. Carrington was a native of Virginia, and a member of one of the oldest families in the state. He served on the staff of Gen. Magruder during the late war.

Fire Raging in a Mine.

ASHLAND, Pa., Jan. 10.—A few months ago a fire broke out in the Big Mine Run culm banks. Water was turned upon it with the hope of extinguishing it. Yesterday while a gang of workmen were running a stream into a mine breach, which had been filled with rock and was exposed by the washing away of the culm from the surface, steam arose and was shortly followed by flame. This indicates that a fire is raging in the workings, and the officials have become alarmed, as two large collieries, the Big Mine Run and Bast collieries, are in danger. Brattice work will now be put up to prevent, if possible, the spreading of the fire.

He Warmed Up the Cartridge.

AMHERST, Mass., Jan. 10.—The foreman of an asbestos mine in Pelham placed a powder cartridge in the oven of J. R. Powell's house, where he boarded, to warm. The cartridge exploded, blowing the stove to pieces, smashing all the windows and setting the house on fire. Mrs. J. R. Powell had both legs crushed, one being torn off, and Mrs. Nelson Powell, her daughter-in-law, was badly injured.

About Bank Checks.

The cashier of a bank said lately that when the public learned which end of the check they should sign their names on it would be a great and glorious day for the employes of the banks. "When the public has been taught this little detail," the cashier said, "it would be well to give the banks a lesson in printing their checks. The latest fashion in checks is by far the most convenient one. All of the information on the check which is of value to the banker is placed on one end. At the right-hand upper corner is the date. Under this is the name of the man to whom the check is drawn. Beneath this again is the amount of the check in figures, and right below that the signature of the man who draws it. The other end of the check is filled in with the name of the bank, and so on. The advantages of this form of check are; First, that the date, amount, signer, and drawee can be seen at a glance; second, if the check is bound up with dozens of other checks and bills it is not necessary to pull it out from the bundle to get information about it. A cashier can take up a package of such checks, thumb over the ends, and set them aside in less time than it would take to go over two or three checks of the older form. Nearly all of the larger banking houses and big corporations have adopted the check, and it will eventually find its way down to the smaller concerns."

—"Why is courting a girl like running a newspaper?" asked a Linn street belle of one of the up town bachelor editors. He gave it up and begged for the answer which was given as follows: "It starts out as a weekly, then semi-weekly, then tri-weekly, then daily and then if it has any enterprise it won't be long until it will commence issuing extras." The editor succumbed.

"The Melancholy Days."

In good truth the melancholy days have come to many. In medical ethics it is said, there is no poison without its antidote, and in like manner there is no pain, mental or physical, without its relief. The melancholy days are those wherein the coming of pain is feared, or pain really experienced. The balmy and delightful air to the healthful, seems filled with chill and moisture to the ailing, the sure provocatives of rheumatic aches and neuralgic throbs; indeed all aches and pains are thus influenced. But the occasion should be full of hope, and the concern of the sufferer only as to the surest and best relief. There is no question about this. The dispute is settled by a large majority. St. Jacobs Oil is not a relief only; it is a sure cure, prompt and permanent. It is not a promise; it is a true performance always.

The President of the Baltimore Medical College has used Speer's Port Grape Wine very extensively in his practice and has written the following letter:

BALTIMORE, Md., April 17th.

I have prescribed Speer's Port Grape Wine with marked and decidedly beneficial effects in cases requiring a gently stimulating tonic, believing it entirely free from adulterations of any kind, have no hesitation in recommending it to the profession and the public generally, as entitled to full confidence for both professional and family purposes.

This statement is predicted upon the ascertained value of this production, and not from general reputation merely.

BRIEF MENTION.

The latest returns of the vote of the Methodist Episcopal church as to the propriety of admitting women delegates to the general conference show a majority of 79,254 in favor of the women.

The trial of Rev. Howard MacQueary, of Canton, O., for heresy began before the ecclesiastical court of the Episcopal diocese of Ohio, in the chapel of Trinity cathedral, at Cleveland. Mr. MacQueary pleaded not guilty, and his counsel placed parts of the New Testament in evidence as a defense. The heresy consists of certain statements in Mr. MacQueary's book on "The Evolution of Man and Christianity," in which the virgin birth of the Saviour is doubted, as is his resurrection from the dead.

Effie Taylor, of Yellow Springs, O., committed suicide on Monday, but before doing so confessed to having participated in the murder of the wife of a colored minister by poison. The minister and his present wife were arrested.

The mayor of Richmond has signed the ordinance which gives the Davis mansion to the Ladies' Confederate Literary association for the purpose of making it a museum for the preservation of Confederate relics.

The New Hampshire legislature met at Concord, and Clerk Jewell, of the house of representatives, in reading the roll, included the "if entitled" members, giving the Republicans a majority of the members, they having 179 to the Democrats' 158. As there was no choice by the popular vote Hiram A. Tuttle (Rep.) was elected governor.

A letter from the secretary of the navy is made public in which he severely criticises Commander Reiter, of the gunboat Thetis, for failing to protect Gen. Barrundia when the latter was killed by Gautemalan authorities on an American steamship in the harbor of San Jose.

The Connecticut Republican caucus unanimously renominated United States Senator O. H. Platt to succeed himself. The Democratic senate and republican house organized, but the question of the canvassing of the returns was not settled.

How to Wash the Hands.

From the Ladies' Home Journal.

Now, about your hands. Wash them in hot water, using almond meal in the place of soap, just before you go to bed, and don't wash them too much in cold water during the day. A woman who has very beautiful hands told me that during the daytime she wiped off any stain that might be upon them with a piece of kid on which was a little vaseline. However, I am a bit old fashioned and prefer water to this. Then when you have the time, sit with your finger tips in a bowl of hot water, and after they have soaked well, dry them and trim the nails, keeping the skin at the base of each down in its place. Push it down either with the end of a soft ivory file or a bit of wood, but do not cut it off. Do not point your nails, and do not polish them too much. The first makes the skin super-sensitive and causes it to grow quicker, while the second and third are counted vulgar.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Sold by druggists, 75cts per bottle nov. 6 1m.

A LOVELY WOMAN

overheard one say of her, "By Heaven she's painted!" "Yes," retorted she indignantly, "and by heaven only!" Ruddy health mantled her cheek, yet this beautiful lady, once thin and pale, and suffering from a dry, hacking cough, night-sweats, and spitting of blood, seemed destined to fill a consumptive's grave. After spending hundreds of dollars on physicians, without benefit, she tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; her improvement was soon marked, and in a few months she was plump and rosy again,—a perfect picture of health and strength.

This wonderful "Golden Medical Discovery," now world-famed as a remedy for consumption, which is really lung-scrofula, is not only an acknowledged remedy for that terribly fatal malady, when taken in time and given a fair trial, but also for all forms of Scrofulous, Skin and Scalp Diseases, as White Swellings, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Eczema, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas and kindred ailments. All scaly, crusty, itching, troublesome eruptions yield readily to its curative powers. It invigorates the liver, enriches the blood and promotes all the bodily functions. It is the only liver, blood and lung remedy, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will do all that it is recommended to, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

is one that promotes digestion, improves the appetite, cleanses the liver, purifies the blood, and stimulates brain and nerves without injurious reaction, and one that may be taken alike by adult or infant. Profane compounds, made of vile rum or bad whiskey, sweetened and flavored, under the titles of bitters, tonics, &c, produce effects far worse than the disease for which they are taken.

Vinegar Bitters is a pure tonic, a nervine without being narcotic, a purifier without poison, a liver tonic without purging, and above all, a life-giving stimulant without alcohol. The only medicine with such powers in the world.

—According to the Lock Haven papers Miss Landers and Miss Morris, of this place, attended a wedding in that city on Wednesday.

—Gorman's Minstrels, booked to appear in Bellefonte on the 20th inst., is one of the four first class minstrel shows in the United States.

—Adjutant General and Mrs. Hastings spent Sunday last in Altoona. In the morning they attended divine service at the First Methodist Episcopal church and in the evening at the First Presbyterian.

—After the Sheriff had departed for Mansfield, Tioga county, on Thursday a telegram was received announcing that the captive was not Wilson.

—Mr. W I Fleming, of this place, has been appointed District Deputy Grand Master for the Masonic District, composed of the counties of Centre and Clearfield.

—Call at the Eureka Cash grocery and examine our goods and prices. You can save money by buying from us. High street, Bellefonte, next door to post office.

—Another one of John Wilson was caught at Mahaffey, Clearfield county. Wilson has proven himself, not only a very smart individual, but a very numerous one, also.

—Go to Powers' for your shoes. The ladies, especially, are invited to call and examine the extra large line of ladies shoes. All sizes and makes, from A to double E in width, and prices to suit yourself.

—A special from Washington says the Pennsylvania National Guard may be called on to go out west and fight the Indians. A good chance for Company B to distinguish itself.

—Arrangements have been made with one of the largest brokers in New York to furnish this paper with a weekly financial report. It appears in this pape to-day; read it.

—It is really a pity that some men are obliged to submit to the insult of being so outrageously carricatured as is generally the case when their "picter" is printed in some 'enterprising' paper.

—Who is going to put the clock in the tower of the Bellefonte Academy? Some one ought to do it. It will be a blessing to the inhabitants of Bellefonte and a credit to the man who puts it there.

—It is stated that Court Reporter W. F. Reber has been tendered the Deputy Secretary-of-Stateship under Secretary W. H. Harrity, but as yet has not positively made known whether he will accept or not.

—Last Thursday was "Jackson Day" in Philadelphia. Messrs. W. F. Reber and J. L. Spangler departed on Wednesday for the Quaker City that they might be present to take part in the ceremonies of the occasion.

—'A Constant Reader' certainly hits the nail on the head in his communication on icy pavements. It would not be allowed in any other town; but here in Bellefonte—oh, well; most everything goes here.

—On Christmas day the members of the Centre Hall Reformed church presented their pastor, Rev. S. H. Eisenburg, with a handsome new Cortland sleigh. They seem to recognize that reverend gentleman's worth.

—The little boy with the new sled is now the happiest mortal on earth—far happier than the newly installed county official; and far happier than the teamster who is continually hearing the cry, "Say, Mister; leave me ride."

—New strawberries have already made their appearance in the Philadelphia market. They are said to be of an excellent quality, large as a walnut and cost only 50 cents apiece, or $5 per dozen. Entirely too cheap to be good.

—Persons who have books in their possession that belong to the library of the Young Men's Christian Association are requested to return them at once to some member of the Association and they will be restored to the library.

—Manager Garman has booked Gorman's Minstrels for the 20th instant. This is one of the first class minstrel troups now traveling and Bellefonte can expect a rare musical treat when they make their appearance in this place.

—It may be that Col. Snellweisner's "Two Thieves," which exhibited in Bellefonte last week, is a good play and a good company, but somehow or other it seems, according to the opinions of all the newspapers, that it is a rank failure.

Mr. Robert K Wilson has been selected by Sheriff Ishler to remain as his deputy for perhaps several months. The new Sherifi could not have made a better selection for a man to acquaint him with the routine of the Sheriff's office.

—District Attornew Meyer returned from Shamokin on Monday evening. Mr. Meyer had gone there to see another one of John Wilson the authorities had there 'cooped' but, like many former occasions, it proved to be only a fair likeness of the real man.

—Now that the clerkship is given out there isn't a democrat in Centre county that had anything to do with it; and yet on Monday and Tuesday the new board was kept so busy listening to "heelers" that they couldn't organize until evening.

—"The refusal of the County Commissioners to make public the several ballots taken to decide the clerkship plainly shows that there is 'something rotten in Denmark,'" remarked a prominent Democrat on Wednesday, and it really looks as if he was right.

—The rolling mills of McLanahan, Smith & Co., of the Portage Iron Company, Hollidaysburg Iron Company, and Furnaces Nos. 1 and 2 of the Cambria Iron Company, at Hollidaysburg have closed down on account of the coal and coke famine.

—On Tuesday morning, in the Williamsport Hospital, a man by the name William Walter, of Milesburg, had a tumor removed from the upper part of his arm. The operation was performed by Dr. B. H. Detwiler, assisted by Drs. Nutt, Connelly and Cannon.

—It may not be generally known but it is a fact, nevertheless, that coke was first used successfully in the manufacture of iron in 1835 at Karthaus, Clearfield county. What tremendous strides have taken place in the manufacture of iron since that day.

—President Atherton, of the State College, has an eye to business. He is already in Harrisburg asking a $200,000 appropriation for to complete the improvements at the State College. If being there on time has anything to do with it he certainly ought to get the desired appropriation.

—On the first of this month the firm of Rowe Bros., furniture dealers, dissolved partnership, Mr. Willis Rowe retiring. Mr. Ed. Rowe will continue at the old stand where all his old customers can find him and where he will, no doubt, be glad to see new ones come.

—On Friday evening P B Swartz, who served a thirty days' sentence in the Bellefonte jail and whose time was up on Friday, was taken to Williamsport on a warrant from the Lycoming county authorities charging him with forgery. He will be held there to await his trial at the next session of court in that place.

—The Bellefonte Fuel & Supply Co, is now doing a first class busines. They are using in their coal yard alone, twelve of the finest horses in the county, Six teams running ten hours every day delivering coal and still the orders are piling up on them. Can any other firm present a like showing?

—The pathway of a county official isn't always strewn with flowers. On Monday evening there was a fair sample of the truth of the above in the Register's office. Augusta Bryant wanted a marriage license. His brother Joseph did not want him to have it. When he failed to dissuade his brother he went for Register Rupp and the way he talked to him was both laughable and aggravating. All the same the other man got his license.

—Prof. W. T. Meyer, of Bellefonte, sojourned in this part of the county last week, combining business with pleasure. He visited his friends in Aaronsburg, tuned several pianos for our music dealer, M. C. Gephart, and attended the musical convention at Rebersburg several days. He is the proud and grateful recipient of a $50 gold piece, given him as a Christmas gift by the Reformed Sunday school of Bellefonte, for his valuable services as musical conductor.—Millheim Journal.

—A very pleasant event occurred at the residence of Mr. John C. Stover, at Aaronsburg, on Christmas day. It was the marriage of his daughter Annie to Mr. F. P. Guiswite, of Woodward. Mr. George Weaver, of the same place, was the best man, and Miss Hosterman, of Centre Hall, bridesmaid. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Geo. E. Adams. The ceremony was performed at eleven o'clock, a. m., in the presence of many friends of the happy couple, who gave them useful presents and warm congratulations.

—Wm. I Swoope, Esq, Mayor of the city of Bellefonte, was at the Hotel Winsor on Saturday evening long enough to tell a Journal reporter that he believed Cameron would be his own successor, and next to their own Dan., was his preference. Mr. Swoope made the address at the annual meeting of the Veteran Association of Centre county at Milesburg on Tuesday evening. He has many of his father's traits of character, is a good writer and a good public speaker. H. Bucher Swoope was an ardent Republican, but he could not have had more love for the party than William I., has.—Raftsman's Journal.

—A general pitched battle occurred on Friday night about eleven o'clock between some of the young bloods at Curtin's Works. The fight was the result of an old feud that had been hanging for some time and it was only at the above named time that an opportunity was offered. And the result was that several young men came out of the scrape with nothing to their credit, but with black eyes and swelled and cut heads. Now if the constable down there would do his duty and arrest all the combatants the glory won on the field of battle might pale considerably before the stern visage of the Centre county court with the firm jail walls looming up in the rear.

—Senator Meek returned on Friday evening from his first week in the State Senate. Mr. P. G. had been to Philadelphia on Thursday to see the Jackson elephant. And, by the way, Assemblyman John T McCormick returned on Saturday from his first week spent in legislative halls. John says it isn't hard work at all serving one's country as a law maker. He said that they hadn't got thoroughly organized until a big Philadelphia chap got up and moved that a recess be taken and it carried. And that's the way it was all the time. But with all the idle time and recesses John will probably find it a poor place to sell phosphate or bonedust.

ON HIS TRACK AT LAST.

Ex-Sheriff Cooke Says He Has Trace of Wilson.—Went Straight to York State.—The Route He Traveled.

From Monday's DAILY NEWS.

Ex-Sheriff Cooke returned on Saturday from his trip to Mansfield, Tioga county, whither he had gone to identify the man under arrest at that place and whom it was thought might be John Wilson. As all previous trips turned out so did this one—proved to be a wild goose chase so far as that man was concerned. In appearance he very much resembled the escaped prisoner only that he was an older man. Mr. Cooke also visited Westfield, where it was reported another one of Wilson was held for identification, but this one was like all the rest of him so far captured, it wasn't him.

But though the man was not discovered Sheriff Cooke says he got positive trace of the way Wilson went. He says that on the night he escaped he went to Milesburg and there jumped a freight going to Lock Haven. From there he rode on another freight to below Jersey Shore where he jumped off. He then went to the junction of the Pine Creek road, jumped another freight and traveled north as far as Lawrenceville, New York. Here the Sheriff claims to have lost trace of him. Now this is more than anybody knew before. And if Sheriff Cooke has a positive and certain trail to Lawrenceville, then there is no reason why John Wilson should not be recaptured.

There is now a trail on which experienced detectives should be put and, though Wilson may be gone to Canada or to Texas, he can be recaptured and returned to justice. And this should be done. Men and murderers of his stripe should not be allowed to run at large, and, though it costs considerable, no effort should be spared to bring this man to justice. Let the authorities do their duty.

A Little Family Quarrel.

A story comes from Clearfield county of the way the rich settle their little differences out in that hilly region. It was along about Christmas when one evening a certain rich man came home a little late and, as is sometimes the case, he had imbibed a little too freely of 'fire water.' Now the said man, when in that condition, was none of the most amiable, and on this special occasion it suited his purpose to pick a quarrel with his better half. He did so; but, as subsequent events proved, to his sorrow. His wife was in no mood to stand the racket and when the battle opened she started in with full force. She beat her liege lord severely, smashed his $250 gold watch, broke up $1,300 worth of furniture, took $2,000 in cash that happened to be in the house, dragged her husband outside and then set fire to the house, bundled herself together and journeyed six or eight miles to her own home. Later accounts say the man is making arrangements to build a new house.

—A runaway occurred on High street this morning which might have proved a serious affair but which, fortunately, did not. The horse belonging to James Harris & Co., was left standing untied at the side of their store. The animal became frightened and started to run first across then up High street. The sleigh to which the animal was hitched struck the horse belonging to the Eureka Cash Grocery, pulled that animal about twenty feet then threw it over on its back. The runaway next struck a bob-sled and gave it a lift, then the Harris horse continued up High street to Spring then struck out Spring. In the meantime a large crowd had gathered around the Eureka Grocery horse to see how badly it was hurt. W. E. Gray, Esq., caught the animal by the bridle and pulled him up. For this favor he got a blow on the limb which, though painful, was not serious. The horse was not injured in the least, neither was the sleigh and save for the breaking of a few straps on the harness nothing more serious occurred.

Marriage Licenses.

Following is the list of marriage licenses issued during the past week:

W H Schenck, of Howard twp, and Mary E Bechdel, of Liberty twp.

Albert Kline, of Chicago, Ill., and Mamie Vanbuskirk, of Richmond, Va.

Wm H Ott and Bella M Keller, both of Axe Mann, Pa.

John Smith, of Philipsburg, and Mary Whitner, of Alport, Pa.

Geo. M Mulliner, of Milton, and Nancy E Fye, of Haines twp.

Michael Gladys and Chistina Contazi, both of Benore, Pa.

Reuben A Shauver, of Spring twp., and Mary Albright, of Benner twp.

Augusta Bryant and Mary Fisher, both of Bellefonte, Pa.

Edward M Gill and Ellie Myers, both of Rush twp.

The Arc Light.

And finally Bellefonte has it. Five weeks after the time first named the light is turned on and the streets of Bellefonte are brilliantly illuminated with the United States patent arc light along side of which the Edison incandescent appears as but a candle dip. Not near all the lights are yet up but when they are Bellefonte will then be better lighted than ever before.

FOUR DEATHS.

The Grim Harvester Gathers a Goodly Number for the Grave.

A telegram from Philadelphia announces the death, at his home in West Philadelphia, of Hon. Andrew H Dill, U S Marshall for the Eastern District of Pensylvania, which sad event occurred on Sunday morning. Mr. Dill was well known personally, by many Bellefonters and the announcement of his death is received with sorrow and regret. The funeral of deceased will take place on Wednesday, the 15th, at 2 o'clock p. m., at his old home in Lewisburg, where the remains will be taken for interment.

FRANK PILE.

This morning Mr. Frank Pile, aged about 30 years, died at the home of his father, Colonel Eyre Pile, on Allegheny street. Frank was a most estimable young man. For a number of years he clerked in the store of S. & A. Loeb and while there made many warm friends. His death, which was caused by consumption, will be lamented by all who knew him.

WILLIAM MORRIS.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. William Morris, of Milesburg, departed this life for the realms of the unknown. Deceased was a brother of Squire J. Irvin Morris, and was aged about 35 years. He had been ailing for some time and his death was the result of a complication of diseases.

DANIEL LUTZ.

On Sunday morning, Mr. Daniel Lutz, a middle-aged farmer living near Zion, got up to shut a stair door when he dropped dead from heart failure. He was well known by most everybody in Bellefonte and surrounding community and was always held in high estimation by all his acquaintances.

Some of Death's Doings.

To the DAILY NEWS:

DEAR SIR:—I append an abbreviated list of mortality in Boggs and Union townships for the month ending January 9, 1891; in which I was personally interested.

Lydia, wife of Andrew Heaton of Boggs, was an estimable woman, a devoted mother and faithful wife and a Christian. About 18 months previous to her death she fell, and sustained an injury in her left shoulder, which culminated in an abscess, which slowly and painfully ended her career on the 9th day of Dec, 1890, at the age of 70 years, 7 months and 2 days.

William, son of James and Mary M Stere, of Union township, died after a lingering illness produced by stomach disease, on the 15th day of Dec. 1890, aged 39 years, 10 months and 25 days, and was the only direct support of his aged parents, and a proffessed Christian for a number of years. His remains were buried in Messiah's Church grave yard on Dicks Run.

John G. Curtin, a resident of Boggs township, was afflicted for a number of years with asthma which finally terminated his life on December 15th, 1890, aged 44 years, 2 months and 20 days. He leaves a wife, one son and two daughters to mourn his loss.

The fourth and last instance I cite is the death of George E., infant son of Elmer and Lucy Resides, of Boggs also, who died on January 7th, 1891, of ulcerated sore throat, aged two years, 5 months and 18 days. His remains, together with those of Mrs. Heaton and Mr. Curtin were buried in Messiah's church cemetery of Marsh Creek. May they rest in peace. J. ZEIGLER.

Died at Howard.

Mrs. Lucetta Lane Reber, aged 31 years 8 months and 27 days. She was a daughter of W. M. and Babella M. Allison of Parvin, Clinton county, and was married to S. Parvin, February 27, 1883. She was a member of the Presbyterian church at Jacksonville, and leaves a husband and two little daughters, a father and sister and four brothers to mourn her death, her mother having preceded her about eight weeks ago. It is a sad stroke on her husband as he has his aged parents to look after, his mother being somewhat cripp'ed, as also her father and family being afflicted with the loss of her mother so short a time ago. She was a good Christian woman, a loving wife and mother, a dutiful daughter and sister and a woman who endeavored to do her duty at all times. Funeral services were held at the house of her late residence conducted by Rev. Wright of Milesburg, assisted by Rev. King of Howard; interment at Jacksonville burying ground.

—Miss Grace Lukenbach and Miss Klein are attending the musical convention in the Reformed church at Centre Hall this week.

Coasting Accidents.

On Tuesday Winny, a young son of Mr. Peter Laughry, was badly injured while coasting. We failed to obtain full particulars but in someway he was thrown from the sled while going at a high rate of speed. He slid along the ice for quite a distance tearing the flesh from his limb and arm and bruising him quite seriously.

Another accident accurred in the evening, but this one the sled was the only thing damaged though the "law" got a tumble. Messrs. J C Meyer and L A Schaeffer had taken the court house sled out for an airing. They pulled it to the top of jail hill for the purpose of taking Sheriff Ishler a ride 'just to show him how it went,' they said. The Sheriff declined with thanks, saying he preferred to walk. Messrs. Meyer and Schaeffer got on and the sled started. It went beautifully until opposite the court house when one of the guide ropes came loose and the pull on the other one ran it into a telephone pole. Mr. Schaeffer jumped, landed on his feet and skated the rest of the distance. Mr Meyer was not so fortunate. He didn't get time to jump and when the sled struck the pole he was thrown off and rolled over and over for about three rods. The sled—well, it will require a new front bob before it will be in condition for any more showing off. Sheriff Ishler, who saw the accident, said he was glad he didn't try it as seeing was enough for him and he was now perfectly satisfied that the sled would go.

But while on the subject of coasting, it is not out of place to say that it really seemed as if all Bellefonte was out coasting last night. Every street was full, and especially was Howard street crowded. Those that had no sleds stood on the crossings, under the arc light, and watched the sleds go by. It was certainly a fascinating sight. And it was certainly a jolly, good humored crowd. Old and young, rich and poor, big and little, black and white all were gathered together to the number of several hundred and all having one grand jollification.

Transfers of Real Estate.

Following are the transfers of real estate made during the past week, and entered for record in the Recorder's office:

Wm F Richards et ux, to Margaret E Jones, lot of ground in Worth township.

Ed P Jones, et ux, to William F Richards, lot of ground in Worth twp.

Mollie Shay and husband to W G Morrison, lot of ground in Port Matilda.

John I Thompson, et ux, to George Farnlser, et al, lot of ground in Worth twp.

Robert Cooke, Jr., to A G Morris, lot of ground in Spring township.

Daniel J and Harry J Leathers, et ux, to Henry Thompson, lot of ground in Howard borough.

Samuel Houser, et al, to Elizabeth Hoy, lot of ground in Benner twp.

David W Clarke, et ux, to Eula E Beatty, lot of ground in Howard twp.

Wm Stanley, et ux, to Daniel Watson, lot of ground in Boggs twp.

Jas Green's exr's to Jonathan Bullock, lot of ground in Milesburg.

Amusements.

On next Saturday night 'A Crazy Lot' will appear in the opera house. Of this play the Daily Herald, of Dunkirk, N. Y., under date of the 3d instant, says: The Jas. R Adams A Crazy Lot company held the boards at the opera house on Friday night. It was a series of convulsions on the part of the audience throughout. Jas. R. Adams, as Bobby Buttons, was a favorite from the start until the curtain was rung down for the last time. His performance on stilts was of a high character. The song and dance programme was entertaining and well rendered. The audience was not a large one, but very enthusiastic. It was certainly a Crazy Lot.

GORMANS MINSTRELS.

At the Globe Gorman's Minstrels opened the season to a large audience. The first part, the Lorillard Reception, presents a number of new features, and was followed by various specialties, among the best of which were George Gorman in a new characterization; vocal numbers, sympathetic and comical, by various members, and a number of song and dance sketches. 'The Dancer's Dream' introduces some very fine dancing. Mr. Layman gave excellent impersonations of various celebrated people in a manner seldom surpassed. The entertainment closed with a quite racy travesty entitled 'The Gamboliers,' introducing the whole company.—Boston Advertiser.

At the opera house on Tuesday evening, January 20th.
